The WEEK

By A. M. BRAYTON

ADOPTION by the assembly of the Dahl tax bill, and the senate's approval of the Severson bill abolishing the secrecy clause in the state income tax law, were two big steps taken in the legislature this week. The Dahl bill provides a more radical shifting of the tax burdens than that incorporated in Senator Severson's bill. It would wipe out the personal property offset, a fact which in many cases would double the taxation of business institutions. Strong opposition has appeared against the bill, and it is one of the measures which drew from some seventy manufacturers threats either to leave the state or to cut out all plans for business expansion. The legislature regards these assertions as largely "bluffing."

With Governor Blaine and Senator La Follette vigorously opposing it, and with Mrs. La Follette one of its unqualified supporters, the bill to abolish the Wisconsin National Guard, recently adopted by the assembly with an overwhelming majority, received in the senate a first set back, which is but preliminary to its ultimate defeat in the upper house. The state affairs committee of the senate unanimously stated the bill for extinction. Both Governor Blaine and the senior senator favor a reduction in appropriations for the guard, but neither want anything done that would lower the high standards set up by the organization.

Something of a sensation was created when Mrs. La Follette wrote Miss Ada James her approval of the bill, shortly after the senator had wired his opposition to it. Political gossip considers this a shrewd political move in which Mrs. La Follette is expected to retain for the senator the support of Wisconsin women who favor abolition of the guard.

Probably this is not a generous point of view. These who know Senator and Mrs. La Follette will have no difficulty in understanding that Senator La Follette quite naturally and sincerely would oppose the bill and that it would be perfectly natural for Mrs. La Follette, with equal sincerity to favor it.

The senate has adopted and sent to the house measures to submit to the people of the state two constitutional amendments. One would empower the state to loan money to farmers so as done in the state of South Dakota, the other would increase the pay of legislators from $2,000 to $3,000. Having been approved by the 1921 legislature, the amendments will go to the people if the assembly approves.

The assembly sent to engrossment legislation which would establish the eight-hour day in private employment, prohibit night work in bakeries, and provide one day rest in seven. Employers using not more than five helpers are exempted.

By a vote of 60 to 27 the assembly refused to kill the Oliver bill which would do away with the civil service commission. The assembly also sent to engrossment a bill to withdraw state aid for farmers' institutions.

Important hearings were held on the unemployment law and the law regarding the employment of girls in hotels. The former would compel employers to pay discharged employees $1 per day for 12 weeks following loss of employment, where such loss was brought about merely by lack of demand for labor. Should other suitable employment be offered him, the employee would lose his rights under the bill irrespective of whether he accepted or refused the offer of employment.

During the week Governor Blaine notified department heads not to attempt to influence legislation by personal conversation with senators and assemblymen. He said the influence of these executives should be applied at committee hearings, but that it was proper for them to give counsel and aid to legislators where the latter requested it.

The latest freak bill to appear in the legislature is one that would repeal the law for compulsory vaccination. Its passage would be a heavy blow to the public health service of the state.

The Wisconsin tobacco pool won the first round in the fight with the Bekkedahls. The latter company is restrained from buying tobacco from farmers who have contracted to sell to the pool. The restraining order remains in force until the trial of a suit which will begin March 26, in which the Bekkedahls attempt to have the courts declare the entire tobacco pool as illegal because in restraint of trade.

President Harding's proposal that the senate immediately authorize entry of the United States into the peace court established by the League of Nations was definitely abandoned by the chief executive for the present session of congress.

Secretary Hughes replied to an inquiry from the senate regarding what the plan meant. He notified the senate that while the administration

LENROOT PLANNING TRIP TO HONOLULU STARTS THIS WEEK

Wisconsin Senator Expected to be in Milwaukee this Week for Conference

SAILS FOR SAN FRANCISCO ON MARCH TWENTY-FIRST

La Follette to Remain in Washington for a Time

By BETTY PRUETT FARRINGTON
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Lenroot announced today he would start west on Tuesday on a trip which eventually will land him in Honolulu, Hawaii.

On Wednesday he will again take up his fight for the St. Lawrence greater waterways with a speech in his behalf before the Cleveland chamber of commerce. He will go to Milwaukee for a series of conferences, and on Friday will go to Chicago. At Chicago, the senator will address the annual meeting of the John Ericsson League. He will start west on Saturday, March 10 for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Paul Black, who is recovering at Oakland, Calif. from an attack of influenza.

The senator will leave San Francisco for the Hawaiian Islands with Mrs. Lenroot on March 21 and will be in the territory for about a week. Upon his return to the coast he may wait for the senate appropriations committee of which he is a member. The committee is planning to go to Alaska via the Panama Canal, and will stop at San Francisco about May 5. It is likely, he said, that he would return to Wisconsin for the summer without making the trip to Alaska.

La Follette Remains

Senator La Follette plans to remain in Washington for several weeks. He will be busy completing the report of the special committee of which he is chairman which investigated the price of oil.

Representative Beck of Virginia, will return to Wisconsin immediately after adjournment, he said, while Representative John M. Nelson, of Madison, plans to remain in Washington several weeks before making any further plans.

Although La Follette has been expected to make several speeches during the summer, there has been no announcement of his plans.

The so-called progressives of the House and Senate are expected to make the most of the summer for the development of plans for the next congress when they will wield the balance of powers.

POTATO GROWERS TO FORM ORGANIZATION

Mr. Fete will endeavor to organize similar potato exchanges in North and South Dakota and to bring about co-operation between the three state exchanges.

The case is being heard before Judge John Medin of Sioux Falls.

MURRAY IS OUT AS CANDIDATE IN RACE FOR MAYOR

Alderman of First Ward Announces He Will Try for Nomination in Primaries

MAKES AN ANNOUNCEMENT OF HIS PLANS SATURDAY

Three-Cornered Race in Primaries is Now Assured

J. B. Murray, alderman of the First ward and La Crosse street grocer, last night formally announced his candidacy for mayor at the March primaries, thus assuring a merry three-cornered fight.

Mayor Arthur A. Bentley and Alderman J. J. Verchota, representative of the Third ward, had previously announced their candidacy for the nomination for the executive office.

The Murray boom has been in progress for several days and nomination papers for the alderman of the first ward have been circulated in all parts of the city. Mr. Murray indicated in the middle of the week that he desired to look over the nomination papers Saturday to ascertain where he might be expected to obtain support before finally making up his mind to run or not run for the office.

Mr. Murray's announcement follows:

"La Crosse, Wis., March 3, 1923
To citizens of La Crosse:
A large number of my fellow citizens have requested me to announce myself as a candidate for mayor. This request is insistent, widespread and representative and I feel I should be lacking in civic conscience were I to disregard it. I therefore announce my candidacy for the mayoralty of our beautiful city. If the majority of my fellow citizens shall endorse this request and elect me mayor, I shall discharge the duties of that high office to the best of my ability with strict justice and impartiality and for the honor, advancement and the best interests of the city of La Crosse.

FARGO NONPARTISAN PAPER TO REMAIN IN PRESENT HANDS

BISMARCK, N. D.—Control of the Fargo Courier-News, organ of the Nonpartisan league, will remain in its present hands, it was decided today at the convention of the Nonpartisan league of North Dakota.

A motion that a co-operative farmers organization be created to seek control of the paper was tabled, 173 to 33. William Lemke, member of the national executive committee, told the delegates that control of the newspaper rested either in the national nonpartisan publishing company or the national executive committee, and that the former was responsible to the desires of the latter.

The reported movement to oust Lemke from a leading role in the affairs of the league did not come to a head in the convention.

W. J. Church of York, chairman of the state executive committee of the league, presented his resignation. Action on the resignation was deferred.

LIGHT WINES AND BEER HELP MAINTAIN DISCIPLINE AMONG AMERICAN SOLDIERS ABROAD

NEW YORK.—Major General Henry T. Allen, commander of the American army of German occupation, came home on the steamship George Washington Saturday, the last of America's generals to return from the world war.

With him came his wife, two more Henry T. Allens—his son, a captain of cavalry, and his grandson, born on the Rhine, 15 months ago to Captain Allen's French wife; a score of staff officers and 54 casual enlisted men.

For the first time since General Allen went with Pershing's column into Mexico on March 17, 1916, he was attired in muffs and wore spats. He said the calves of his legs felt "very airy" in the unaccustomed garb.

General Allen said the army of occupation had proved to be one of the greatest army training centers the United States ever had, and described the force he commanded there as "the finest soldiers in the world."

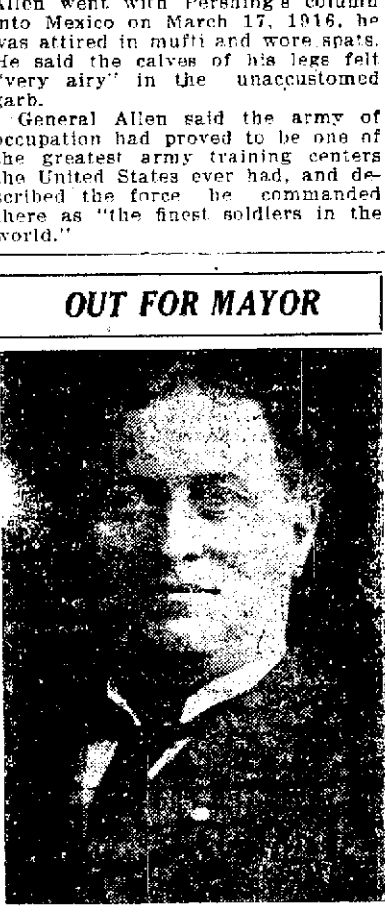

Modified prohibition—allowing the troops light wines and beer—General Allen declared had proved most effective in maintaining discipline.

The German residents of the American zone of occupation, he said, had been greatly pleased with the confidence of the Americans.

Personally General Allen said he was a "near teetotaler," having taken no liquor of any kind "for years" but he could not see that the lesser intoxicants had done his men any harm.

Speaking of complaints of Americans because Germany had not yet paid for the maintenance of the American troops on the Rhine, he pointed out that the $250,000,000 that the army upkeep cost was but 18 per cent in excess of what it would have cost to keep the troops in America. The prestige America had gained from its occupation, he said, was well worth the extra 18 per cent if Germany never paid.

BLIZZARD NORTH SWEEPING ACROSS SEVERAL STATES

Snow and Colder Weather With Strong North Wind Bring Return of Winter

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—A tornado struck St. Joseph early Saturday night and tore east across the city from the Union Station doing much damage.

Houses were unroofed, trees torn down and telephone wires wrecked. Nine persons have been reported injured.

The tornado hit at the plant of the Collier-Adams Manufacturing company near the Union Station and cut a path two blocks wide for two miles east across the city. Thousands of dollars damage was done.

Mildred Taylor, two months old negro baby, with its twin, was in its mother's arms. The wind lifted the one baby and hurled it across the room. It is not expected to live.

SIoux FALLS, S. D.—With a heavy snowfall, a strong north wind raging and the mercury dropping rapidly, this section of South Dakota tonight was experiencing the worst blizzard of the winter. Large drifts were being piled up during the night, delaying trains and hindering city trolley service while rural motor car traffic was almost completely tied up. The thermometer was registering eleven degrees above zero and dropping rapidly.

GRAND FORKS, N. D.—The thawing temperature which prevailed most of the week has changed and ditches filled with water frozen by a drop of more than thirty degrees in the last twenty-four hours. The minimum temperature being nine degrees above and the maximum twelve below. Indications are that colder weather is in store for northeastern North Dakota.

DULUTH, Minn.—Reappearance of colder weather to supplant the spring-like temperature that prevailed during the last week, began with a drop in temperature of twenty-one degrees between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. today. A northwest wind of twenty-mile velocity was prevalent. Partly cloudy and much colder with probable fresh northeasterly winds is the forecast for Sunday.

MANY HOT DEBATES MARK THE CLOSING HOURS OF CONGRESS

Sweet Bill for War Veteran Relief and Deficiency Appropriation Bill Pass

BOTH HOUSES WILL ADJOURN PROMPTLY AT NOON TODAY

Conference Report on Farm Credits Bill Adopted

WASHINGTON.—The waning hours tonight of the 67th congress, which expires by law Sunday noon, were troubled with a pre-adjournment wrangle that gave an extraordinary touch to the final session. "Swear songs" and farewells to men and measures.

Night sessions were held by both senate and house to clear away the last vestigial business on the calendars. Tomorrow's session will begin at ten o'clock giving a two-hour period for the final formalities. President Harding will go to the capitol to sign eleventh hour bills, and sharply at noon congress will pass into history.

The congressional books virtually were closed early tonight with only one major measure, the farm credits bill, caught in the turmoil and jam of the closing hours. It was held waiting most of the day while a double-headed filibuster in both senate and house raged over the senate resolution providing $10,000,000 for purchase of fertilizer. House leaders had held up the resolution, and its supporters retaliated by provoking a filibuster of hours that tied house procedure in a knot. Then a sympathetic filibuster was started in the senate, southern senators threatening all legislation in an effort to force action on the fertilizer measure.

Bills Squeeze Through

In the course of the day, however, and during the evening hours, scores of minor bills squeezed under the wire and others received their death blows. The debate turned on many subjects. Many statements praising the two years record of congress were made by republican leaders while opposite views were voiced by their political opponents. Revision of the tariff and internal revenue tax laws with reduction of expenditures of an army and navy forces were claimed by the republicans as outstanding achievements but Senator Robinson of Arkansas, ardent democratic leader, issued a statement declaring that the tariff law was the only "administration triumph." Other important measures he said were partisan and he declared the present administration was "reaping a harvest of condemnation and repudiation."

Both branches of congress went at high speed on their last working day until the snarl of filibustering developed. Among the measures put through were the 158,700,000 deficiency appropriation bill, the Sweet bill for war veterans relief, a senate resolution ordering an investigation of the gold and silver industry and a resolution continuing the $240 bonus for government employees.

Hundred Say Good-bye

For more than 100 members this was virtually their last day of service and good-bye meetings were numerous and sometimes touching. The house held its filibuster for a half hour to present a large chest of silver to Representative Mondell of Wyoming, retiring republican floor leader.

During the day the administration proposal for American representation on the world court was definitely laid to rest until the new congress convenes next December. The senate voted 49 to 24 against proceeding with the King resolution granting the president's request for senatorial assent.

Conference Report Adopted

WASHINGTON.—The conference report on the farm credits bill as adopted tonight by the house and the measure sent to the senate, where favorable action would make it ready for the president.

Attack Representatives
WASHINGTON.—Attacks were made today in the house on Representative Mondell of Wyoming, republican leader and Representative Campbell, republican of Kansas, chairman of the rules committee and Speaker pro tempore, for the failure to permit house votes on Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals and on a resolution proposing government purchase and re-sale to farmers of 10,000,000 worth of nitrates and calcium arsenate.

Representative Jeffers, democrat of Alabama, charged the two republican leaders with "misusing their positions" in denying a vote on the Muscle Shoals proposition "at the best or in accordance with the wishes and desires of the great interests" side of the fertilizer power, the Chicago nitrate interests and the aluminum trust of this country.

Called Aluminum King
"And by the way," he added, "bear in mind that your secretary of the

GRAVE PERIL TO SOUTH GERMAN STATES IS SEEN

Baden Protests Occupation While Urging the Populace to Remain Calm While Awaiting Developments

ACTS OF SABOTAGE GIVEN BY FRENCH AS REASON FOR ADVANCE

Berlin Attaches Great Importance to Latest Movements of Invading Army

BERLIN.—By The Associated Press.—Prime importance is attributed in the Berlin press Saturday to the occupation by the French of Mannheim, Karlsruhe and Darmstadt, and all available dispatches bearing upon the development receive prominent display.

Some quarters see in the extended occupation a grave peril to the south German states and the belief is expressed that Chancellor Cuno's visit next Monday to Munich, stopping off at Stuttgart en route, may have unusual significance in view of the new advance.

Special dispatches from Karlsruhe report that an official protest has been made by the Baden government which at the same time is urging the populace to remain calm.

Mannheim, Karlsruhe and Darmstadt are the largest and most important cities occupied in the southern Rhineland since the Ruhr action began and the American troops were withdrawn. Mannheim holds a most prominent place in South Germany as a transfer point for coal and grain, all shipments out of the Ruhr for lower Germany being distributed from there. In addition to being important traffic points Karlsruhe and Darmstadt are the state capitals respectively of Baden and Hesse.

French Give Reasons

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—The French government has officially notified the German ambassador at Paris that the occupation Saturday of the Rhine ports of Karlsruhe and Mannheim was on the ground that acts of sabotage had been carried out on railroads and canals in the Ruhr valley and the Rhineland.

Plan to Run Utilities

DUESSELDORF.—By The Associated Press.—Measures for extension of the administration of public utilities in the Ruhr under French and Belgian occupation have just been announced by General Decoutre. Now that the railroads in the Ruhr and Rhineland have been taken over, arrangements are completed to operate the power post system in this area. All power stations and power plants in transit were seized Saturday. The French took this action because the Germans were accused of establishing a caldestine postoffice and attempting to avoid frontier customs examinations by sending and bringing parcels at night through points not guarded by troops.

The dollar basis will be used hereafter in the valuation of all coal produced in the Ruhr on which the French and Belgians are to collect from mine owners a forty per cent tax for reparations. This policy is announced in connection with details of the mine control.

BADGER BASKETBALL TEAM WINS FROM MINNESOTA TEAM

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin's basketball squad had an easy time with Minnesota Saturday night, the Badgers winning 36 to 10. The Wisconsin second team was used most of the last half.

The visitors were unable to penetrate Wisconsin's defense and made most of their points on free throws.

CIGARETTE CASES DISMISSED

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—When the cases of A. N. Mackay and several others charged with violation of the state anti-cigarette law came up before City Judge, Boel Pratt Saturday they were indefinitely postponed. Too many serious cases are on the calendar, the judge ruled. Mr. Mackay, general manager of the Salt Lake Tribune, is charged with having smoked a cigar in a restaurant.

The attention of Salt Lake City residents has switched from the trial of alleged violators of the cigarette to the state legislature where efforts to pass a substitute cigarette measure are under way. This new bill, although it would legalize the sale of cigarette under state tax, is declared by some legislators to be more objectionable than the statute now in effect.

DECLARES AMERICA SETS FOOD PRICES FOR ENTIRE WORLD

President of British Chamber of Trade Predicts Improvement in 1923

LONDON.—An encouraging forecast for improved British trade in 1923 is made by Felix B. Rakemore, president of the National Chamber of trade.

"I am convinced that our industrial conditions will improve," Mr. Rakemore writes, "and while paying due regard to the importance of our present markets and their present status, the prospects of a greatly increased trade with our overseas dominions, crown colonies and dependencies are distinctly reassuring. It will be remembered that early this year our overseas dominions floated large loans in London for purposes of development. These were mostly over-subscribed, and now that the economies are maintaining large orders for raw and man-made goods are being placed in great Britain which will gradually expand as the work proceeds."

"The foreign markets of the world—other than the United States—are increasingly active in their inquiries for British goods, due in the main to the failure of Germany to execute orders, and also somewhat to the raising of the United States tariff wall by the raising of the Fordney tariff bill. If only we can reduce our cost of production, and therefore our prices, we shall be able to compete with these inquiries for orders."

Mr. Rakemore predicts that cost of production will be reduced by a fall of five points in the living price about March, and a further considerable reduction 12 months hence. This is based on the appreciation of the value of the pound sterling in America, which will enable American producers to be reduced in price to the consumer, and America is so important a factor in the supply of food goods to this country, that American prices of food rapidly become world prices.

"The increased food supplies, together with appreciation of sterling values, will undoubtedly bring cheaper goods to the consumer, and it is reducing the cost of living, it does not immediately reduce production cost of manufactured goods. It will at once increase the purchasing power of the British public and so stimulate the home demand for the goods we make."

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS PLAN RURAL BOYS CONFERENCE TO BE HELD ON APRIL 7

Previous to February 10th, a notice was issued that all plans had been made for the Boy Scouts of La Crosse to entertain the boys of La Crosse county. Unfortunately, many of the supervisors, who were instructed by R. W. Lewis, chairman of the supervisors, to send in names of boys, neglected to do so, with the result that only 28 boys appeared on Saturday morning at 9:30, February 10th.

The boys who did appear were: Leonard Burrows, Melvin Evenson, Melvin Gramm, Wilbur Hossfield, Melvin Knudson, Leslie Libokken, Holmen; Will Dowiasch, John Lusk, Arnold Meyer, Ernest Roesler, of Coon Valley; Carlisle Hatch, Donald Terpstra, of Onalaska; Theron Brudos, of the Sunshine Poultry Farm; Willard Johnson, of Midway; Albert Klein-smith, Frank Leibel, Edgar Leida, Ervin Morehouse, George Schmitz, of La Crosse rural routes; Robert Miller, of Mormon Coulee; Valentin Pralle, Campbell; David Richmond, of French Island; Peter Rosendale of Holmen; Albert Schaus, Elmer Koenen, of St. Joseph's Ridge; Frank Schmidt, of Bangor; Ernest Suggard, of Long Coulee and Or-lando Wienech of Newburg's Corner. These boys were kept busy, and before they left had learned the nine required Scout knots, and made an eye-splice, and also a short splice. Many of them did exceptionally good work, some of them as good as the Scouts could do, which was a wonderful accomplishment for the instructor and also showed the adeptness of the student.

Have Picture Taken

Shortly before twelve o'clock the boys had their picture taken on the steps of the La Crosse club, and later the boys were taken to the homes of Scouts where they were entertained at luncheon.

The boys returned at 1 o'clock and were told the idea of organizing a country boys' rural troop. There were a few exceptions. Some of the boys who accepted the hospitality of the Scouts very very skeptical as to any other advance, which is natural from a conservative group, who have always considered the city boy with a few exceptions. Some of the boys who accepted the hospitality of the Scouts very very skeptical as to any other advance, which is natural from a conservative group, who have always considered the city boy with a few exceptions.

But it is hoped that when the rural boys' troop has been organized, it will show how much a country boy can derive from it. For instance, one father said: "I have been farming for twenty years, and my boy came home and taught me how to tie many knots that I always longed to know, and the mystery of rope-splicing was made clear to me." He further said that he thought he could do better than his son, and his son was one of the boys who received not wait, as was the case February 10th. Parents waited until six o'clock for boys who were aimlessly roaming the streets searching for their parents who had been waiting for several hours at the Chamber of Commerce.

There should be 100 rural boys at the next conference.

Men of the Reformed church are to meet in Soer, Pa., for a general promotion of Christian activity on March 6 to 8. It is the first meeting of this religious body since 1857. Its aims are expected, and the general presentation will be the work of the Reformed church in foreign countries, in education, and in evangelistic efforts. The meeting is in name of the 'Laymen's Missionary Movement' stated that Baptists of the South and the Reformed are the only two considerable bodies to mention of this movement, which activity with its plans a decade or more ago. Church World movement, holding the contemporary stage for a briefer and later period, together. In a national sense, the Laymen's Movement is also, but in few cases, retained for use in special cases. The Reformed, probably the largest ever held the Reformed church, is announced as a conference.

favor official or unofficial American opposition, he would face Lord George with the knowledge that the United States was both absent and because of its views of Russian matters. In the conference, in other words, Mr. Polkcare might assume that he could proceed to block Lord George at Genoa unhampered by American opposition and assured a measure, at least, of American approval.

Fate, moreover, played into Polkcare's hands for not only was the American attitude made clear in advance, but the announcement of a Russian-German agreement of non-belligerence threw all the central and lateral states into his arms. England, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, and the Balkan states, all quite as promptly threw in their lot with the nation, whose army was their sole guarantee against a Russian attack designed to destroy the territorial divisions made at Paris and after, at the expense of Russia and Germany.

Genoa showed America and all the entente states in Europe a

At the moment there is no appeal from Paris to Washington to refer to Europe. Nor is there likely to be. The French would be enough naturally to have us induced by word and even more by deed that we approved of their operations against Germany. They appreciated that even a friendly gesture would hasten German surrender, but they do not expect this and they will perfectly contented if we maintain the attitude which we have maintained ever since M. Poincaré followed Mr. Hughes' New Haven speech on the Ruhr occupation.

But the French are satisfied with the present policy of the United States. The British are not only appointed but frankly alarmed. They are alarmed because without us we have no chance this side of war influence French policy. There is absolutely nothing which they can say or do which will persuade the French to quit the Ruhr and let the French in the Ruhr the peace of Europe is not worth a tuppence penny. And with the peace of Correlion might take the form of a more concerted and sustained effort to bring about a change in the character of a mercenary operation. It might be limited to clearly defined dissipation, but it would not even be bound to arouse reaction.

Moreover, it is felt in the administration circles quite clearly, that the British have not acted in any way by no means as "patently hostile" French action as it seems to be in the British. On the contrary, the British have been most unhesitatingly rallying to the French point of view all over the world in recent weeks. Which means that the British have not only saved very clearly that it has no date for intervention against France and that given the present situation, the British would not have any intervention would have this action.

Therefore, it seems to me that British hopes are again doomed to disappointment and that this disappointment will be measurable in the number of American troops that will be considered America is single.

If we remain quiescent, there is no reason to believe that the British will have to take the lead and that course must not alone be disastrous to the world in general, but also calamitous to the British themselves.

But as yet London has not made

JAPANESE PLAYS ARE LIMITED TO ONLY SIX HOURS

Combined Action of Entertainers Wins Reform for Both Public and Reformers

TOKIO.—Japanese actors and actresses, by combined action, have won two reforms which will benefit the public and reformers alike. The checker, or hired applauder, whose charges were a heavy tax on the actors, has been abolished and performances are to be limited to six hours, except twice a year, when they may be extended to eight hours. In old days a performance would last from morning till night and would be a real change of dress during the performance. Even up to the present, tea, cakes and at least one meal were partaken of either in the dining room, if it be a foreign built theater, or squatting on the mats without leaving one's seat, if it be the old style theater.

When a famous actor is on the program he generally plays in more than one play. Charges vary from 1.50 yen for fourth class to 8 yen or 10 yen for box seats. When a foreign star appears, or a big charity performance has been organized, these seats go up to 15 yen. Seats at the Imperial theater are 600 yen and 750 yen for second and first class. In the smaller Yuzakura theater, which has votes itself to modern productions requiring less consuming, the prices are 2.50 yen and 5 yen.

For the No dance, lasting from 2.30 to 3 p. m., a box can be had for 10 yen, while those who belong to the No club reserve seats for the whole year by a subscription of 1,000 yen.

MOVIE SHOWS NOW
"BOOTLEGGED" IN BERLIN
BERLIN.—Movies, concerts and two-step are now being "bootlegged" in Berlin.
The order of the government curtailing amusement as an economy step because of the French invasion has given rise to many illegal pleasure palaces.

When the sidewalks are pulled in at 11 p. m., the convivial spirits of this once gay city sneak through alleys and up dark flights of stairs where dances, movies or shows are in progress.

A Map Made of Silver
There has been sent to the Royal Geographical Society for exhibition an interesting relic of Sir Francis Drake's voyage round the world from 1577 to 1580. Known as the "Silver Map of the World," it is a thin, circular silver plate about three inches in diameter, engraved on one side with the Eastern Hemisphere, and on the other with the Western. The work has been attributed to the famous Dutch engraver, Hondius.

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

New books at the Public Library reviewed by Lily M. E. Borresen, librarian.
A reviewer in the Nation says of the book: "A worried treatise of a solemn soul who with extensive surveys mankind from China to Peru and discovers that there is a groundswell of unrest among the orders and races who, in the solemn soul's judgment, are unfit to survive. These orders, of course, include all which do not belong to the imperialistic European scheme; and with them are classed the social orders even in Europe which do not hold with that scheme. The warfare according to the solemn soul, is between bolshevism and biology; the bolsheviks by his account offer an avowed resistance to the march of survival; it is as if the mad were jealous of the clever. It is almost equally unendurable as biology, history and sociology."

The "Survey" says of it: "Another book for those who like to have their flesh be made to creep. This time it is not merely inferior races but the inferior elements in all races that are assuming the reins of power and producing the death of one form of civilization but of all forms. According to Mr. Stoddard, both the collectivist tendencies of our time and the extreme individualistic tendencies as exhibited, for instance in 'expressionist' art and verse, are menaces to the progressive evolution of mankind. The only safety assuming the cataclysm can be averted would seem to lie in breeding more from America's Puritan strain and suppressing all others. The new super-americanism assumed will be neither socialist nor individualist but just a starker for the New England tradition."

New World of Islam, by T. Lothrop Stoddard

With the Turk back in Europe and delivering ultimatums to nations lying warships in the Bosphorus, with the rumblings of revolt in India, Egypt and other parts of North Africa, and the constantly reiterated statement that England and France dare not do this, that or the other thing for the fear of stirring their Mohammedan subjects to revolt, this is an exceedingly timely book.
The author relates and proves that for more than a hundred years gigantic transformations have been taking place in the world of Islam. They began with the Wahabi movement in the beginning of the 19th century, a strictly puritan reformation whose aim was the reform of abuses and abolition of superstitious practices and return to primitive Islam accompanied by most rigid code of moral and austere manner of living. From this evolved a new type of religious temperament, the most powerful of which is the Senussiism with its headquarters on an inaccessible oasis in the Libyan desert, besides striving to improve manners and morals of the populations under their influence and also material conditions by encouraging better cultivation of oases, digging new wells, building red-houses along caravan routes that promoting trade, they are carrying on extensive missionary work and have converted millions of pagan negroes of Central Africa to the faith of Islam; A French Protestant missionary says: "While Christians dream of the conquest of Africa, Mohammedans do it."

All this activity together with contact with Western civilization has produced what Mohammedan leaders call a Renaissance of Mohammedan culture and lately Pan-Islamism. What Pan-Islamic Nationalism means and may mean, not only for the East but for the West as well, is the story Mr. Stoddard's book tells.
A reviewer in the London Spectator says: "This is a book which no man who aspires to an opinion on world policy and especially on the policy of the British empire, can afford to neglect. Happily it is an easy book to read. It is written with great zest and interest on the part of the writer, and his views are supported on every page by copious quotations. An American reviewer says: 'It is doubtful whether a fairer treatment of this subject has been given elsewhere. This is a comprehensive and unified conception of this great system of civilization which dominates the broad belt reaching from Morocco to the center of Asia, and is today pushing its powerful and successful propaganda into the heart of Africa.'

Friendly Arctic by Vilhjalmur Stefansson

This is an account of this noted explorer's latest Arctic expedition, 1912-1918. Stefansson explored and mapped over 100,000 square miles of hitherto unknown polar territory and dispelled many illusions with respect to Arctic conditions. In this volume he tells the story of his years in the North and shows the Eskimo habits, beliefs and traditions before they came in contact with white races. Though his expedition fought against great odds, he insists that he has reached Arctic exploration of its highest quality, that the great North is indeed friendly and that white men could live in the country just as the Eskimos do. He proved that there is abundance of fuel and food available to experienced explorers that in the farthest Arctic, the sea supplied food even more abundantly than the land, and that these hitherto dreaded regions have possibilities of being used and lived in like the rest of the world. The book is fully illustrated with photographs, maps and documents.

Ellis Huntington, in the Literary Review says of the book: "It is sure to take its place as one of the most fascinating and valuable tales of polar exploration that has ever been written. It has all the heroism and adventure of the most thrilling stories of either the North or the South." And yet the author insists as he did in his fascinating lecture at the La Crosse Normal school that there is nothing heroic about polar exploration if one only goes about it in the right way and that an adventure is a sign of incompetence so that he is thoroughly ashamed of every adventure he has to tell about.

Those who heard him lecture will be glad to know that he writes just as he talks with unexpected flashes of wit and humor.

My Life With the Eskimo, by Vilhjalmur Stefansson

This is an earlier book in point of publication than "Friendly Arctic," appearing in 1913; but it has only within the past week been added to the library collection.

It relates the experiences of the author on an expedition which left New York, April, 1908 and returned to San Francisco November, 1912. On this expedition he left New York with a outfit of less than a ton weight, consisting mainly of cartridges and film, rifles and ammunition, and two pairs of binoculars, besides a strong faith that he could live on the country if the Eskimos could. Mr. Stefansson was joined at Toronto by Dr. Anderson, an old classmate at the University of Iowa, who was to be the zoologist of the expedition. They actually succeeded in living off the country and in making most valuable ethnological studies of the Eskimos. Their most startling discovery was the "Blond Eskimos," who Stefansson found, had more of the characteristics of the Scandinavian races than the Eskimos. They entertained Stefansson and his party for the better part of a year, he living as one of them.

The Iron Man in Industry by Arthur Pound

At Flint, Michigan, where Mr. Arthur Pound has been engaged in newspaper work, he has seen the amazing development of the automobile industry through the use of the automatic machine, the "Iron Man." Watching the Iron Man turn a village into a city and a state into a workshop, Mr. Pound has tried to visualize the social significance of the automatic machine to the masses.

The old bar to easy entrance into the skilled trades of the city, the apprenticeship necessary to skill in a craft, has been broken by the auto-equality of income. Yet it proceeds without any assistance from the Socialists, solely as the result of the installation of automatic machinery by capitalists.

Another interesting chapter is that on "Education for Leisure." The author shows how the new machinery fails to satisfy the minds of workers since it calls for monotonous, standardized, repetitive operations without variety and with no incentive to intellectual curiosity and mental initiative. Two results follow, on the one hand, the hours of work must be reduced and the leisure time spent in furnishing the mind with the activities it craves. As a consequence of the latter, young people must be educated to use their leisure beneficially by guiding away from obsolete vocational training toward the artistic, the ethical, the philosophical and the religious. On the other hand, without properly spent leisure the Iron Man will lead to lower mentality, the employment of the subnormal, the survival of the unfit, and the final submergence of our Western civilization.
One reviewer says of this book: "This is a book that challenges attention. It ought not to be read in a hurry, but thoughtfully. Nearly every page gives material for much deliberation. Yet, unlike most such books, the 'Iron Man' is very readable; the author has an easy humorous style, and is specially gifted in the use of unusual figures of speech. The author has assumed a whole from a part. Automatic machinery is not a new thing, nor is it likely to be universal in American industry. Some of our important industries are still in the hand-stage. Consequently, the promise of university for the Iron Man, upon which Mr. Pound proceeds to reason, results in exaggeration."

THINGS MUSICAL

By H. MARGARET JOSTEN

The famous St. Olaf Choir from Northfield, Minnesota, was heard here again on March 23. Probably no musical organization which has appeared in La Crosse ever aroused such universal wonder at the perfection of its work nor such unanimous expression of the desire to hear it again.

The choir first sang in La Crosse last June at the time of the Luther League Convention. The Normal Auditorium was packed to the doors with the delegates and townspeople who thronged to hear the choir. Many were unable to secure admission to the first concert and gladly accepted the opportunity offered to hear the second program which was given at ten o'clock in the evening. The consensus of opinion the following day was that the choir's work was of such a high order that it could hardly be surpassed for sheer beauty as well as for precision and correctness.

The choir is being brought to La Crosse on this occasion by the Music Study Club and will sing at the La Crosse Theater.

Mrs. Whelpley, supervisor of the music of the public schools, is planning a Spring Festival of Music of such character as has rarely if ever been undertaken here. The work is designed to be constructive, inspirational and instructive, while in process of preparation and the public presentation to be the climax of the year's music study. According to the present plan the festival will have three phases.

The High School Glee Club and a large chorus of high school students will sing Grand Opera favorites from the Italian, German and French. The Italian school is to be represented by selections from the operas of Puccini, Verdi and Wagner by Wagner, and Von Weber. The French by Bizet and Gounod. There will be solos as well as an interesting display of dancing and the ballet.

The Grammar Grades are to present a French cantata by Bizet, "Carmen." The cantata is written especially for children's voices of the age of those in the fifth through the eighth grades.

The third phase of the festival will be the work of the Primary Grades. For them Mrs. Whelpley has arranged a story which she calls, "The Awakening Spring," using Gaynor Liles and Lyrics. The dramatization will be worked out by Miss Outright and the little song drama prepared by the teachers of the first, second, third and fourth grades in conjunction with Mrs. Whelpley and Miss Demmon.

The Music Study Club will have the assembly periods of the high school in charge next Wednesday morning and will give the students an interesting musical program featuring the latest reports of the work of modern composers of the American, English, Finnish and Russian schools. The program will be given as follows:

- (a) Second Movement of the Sixth Symphony, Tchaikovsky
- (b) Prelude, Op. 10, No. 3, Chopin
- (c) The Swan, Debussy
- (d) The Will of the Wisp, Macdonald
- (e) Pastorale, Op. 10, No. 3, Debussy
- (f) Sorcerer's Apprentice, Dukas

- (g) The Swan, Debussy
- (h) The Will of the Wisp, Macdonald
- (i) Pastorale, Op. 10, No. 3, Debussy
- (j) Sorcerer's Apprentice, Dukas
- (k) The Swan, Debussy
- (l) The Will of the Wisp, Macdonald

Norman Sangerker will sing his offering at the Trinity Lutheran church on the North Side. The choir will repeat the program given at St. Paul's church two weeks ago, thus giving many who could not hear the beautiful numbers sung at that time an opportunity to do so today.

The Correspondent for the Musical Courier, one of the foremost musical journals, writes at length in the recent number of the publication of the choir by the People's Chorus of Northfield, Conn. Referring to the beautiful work of the choir, he says: "The choir's work is of such a high order that it could hardly be surpassed for sheer beauty as well as for precision and correctness."

SULPHUR RAINS

Strange stories are sometimes told of the wonderful things that have fallen in rainstorms. Occasionally it is frogs, again it is splashes of blood, or some other such thing. Frequently there is a foundation for these stories, and investigation furnishes an explanation of the phenomenon.

At Rockville for many years, in April and May, so-called "rains of sulphur" have been noticed, when the earth becomes spotted with what seem to be patches of sulphur brought down by the rain. This phenomenon was not long ago the subject of a scientific investigation, and it was shown that the supposed sulphur was really the yellow pollen of a species of pine, large forests of which exist south and southwest of Rockville. The rains referred to occur at the time of the flowering of the pines, the pollen of which must be carried to a great height in the air. Merrill Herald.

SOME SUNSHINE STATISTICS

During the season of the longest days of the year the sun rises along the central-portion border of the United States about one hour earlier than in the extreme south but this condition is reversed during the shorter days. In the extreme southern portion of the United States, the shortest day of the year is only about three hours shorter than the longest day, but in the extreme northern part there is a difference of about eight hours between sunrise and sunset. The maximum amount of sunshine for the summer as a whole falls in the great valley of California where the sun shines nearly 15 hours a day and where the sky is almost continuously cloudless. This is about 25 per cent of the possible amount of sunshine.

Attractive Huts for Railroad Laborers

The unsightly and insanitary box cars that have been used along the railroads for many years to house section laborers have been supplanted by the Southern Pacific Railroad. Instead of the dilapidated box cars formerly used, neat and clean huts made of ties bound together with cement have been constructed, presenting a uniform and tidy appearance as well as being more sanitary.

THE TEMPERATURE of the state of Alaska is 32.00 degrees Fahrenheit.

THEY SAY....

That Miss Elizabeth Drew who delighted her audience of College club people and their friends in a lecture at the Congregational church last week, is not teaching just now. She is running a shop in London, and imports beautiful robes and gowns. This speaks for the versatility of the artistic temperament, and Miss Drew is an example of its practicability. For some years she has been a teacher of English literature in Cambridge University, England, and she had charge of the educational work with British soldiers on the Rhine during the war.

Miss Drew finds America interesting in many ways. With her keen comments upon the middle west, which she called attractive but dirty, she might entertain an audience for some time. Lee with meat, she remarked, hogins at Cleveland and is a characteristic of the middle west. She told this story of her introduction to a small town audience of women put long ago:

The president of the club before which she was to lecture on Bernard Shaw, introduced her in this wise: "It was with some trepidation that the committee decided to ask a woman to speak before the club. This has never been done before, but we trust that Miss Drew will demonstrate the wisdom of the decision. I myself, have been reading 'The Outlines of History' during the last week, and I am convinced that we will greatly enjoy what Miss Drew is to tell us about Mr. Shaw."

The English girl is much like the American girl, according to Miss Drew. The more progressive of both go to London or New York, and there is little difference between those who remain. She is pessimistic about our attempts to educate the masses.

Dr. L. H. Pammel, who visited La Crosse last week and spoke before the La Crosse Women's club, told his friends that he was sending a note from his old State Road Cougars quarry down to his present home, Ames, Iowa, where it will be used in the construction of a new Episcopal church. Dr. Pammel's heart is still in La Crosse. He thinks with affection of the old homestead on State Road, where he planted the trees when he was a lad, and anticipates with pleasure having a fragment of La Crosse country in his adopted home church.

THE JOHN FLANN POST, Women's Relief Corps, will hold its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in its rooms at 726 Mill street. Following the meeting a birthday party will be given at which all members having birthdays in January, February or March will be honor guests. All members are urged to attend this meeting.

THE SONS OF VETERANS Auxiliary will have its regular meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the courthouse.

THE BOARD of directors of the Y. W. C. A. will meet for luncheon on Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Y. The regular monthly business meeting will follow.

THE NEEDLECRAFT club of the First Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. W. J. Skok and Mrs. E. A. Flies at the home of the latter, 1502 Market street, on Wednesday afternoon.

Suits decide blouse fashions, so this spring all blouses are about alike. They're gathered in a wide belt, fitting closely over the hips, and sleeves are very short, or, if longer, very tight, to let a suit coat slip over them easily.

Suit coats are designed on the same model, or in long box styles, entirely covering the blouse, or again, extremely short Eton jackets are worn, displaying the waist underneath. Nearly all suit blouses are of printed or broadened silk.

Dr. Ruth Boynton of La Crosse

Consultant of Minnesota "U" Staff

Dr. Ruth Boynton is one of La Crosse's most successful girls. She is consulting woman physician at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, and a member of the Health Service Staff of the University.

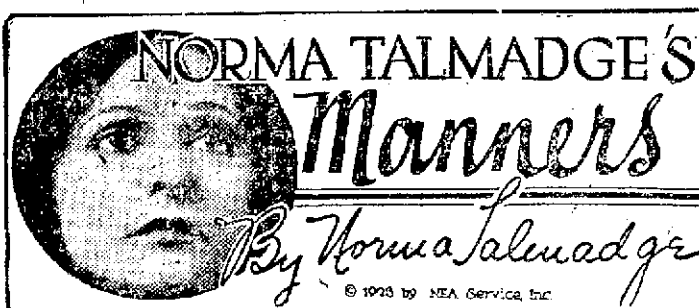

Besides examining for their physical fitness, all girls entering the university she is adviser for excusers from gymnasium and other school work. One of her activities is giving addresses at community centers, such as children's clinics and social centers, both to young people and adults. She talks upon health and normal life for girls. Dr. Boynton is also doing some interesting research in conjunction with her work at the university.

La Crosse will remember Dr. Boynton as the daughter of Mr. E. G. Boynton, one of her old residents. She is a graduate of the La Crosse high and normal schools and of the Universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota. At one time during a few months at home, during her medical training, she instructed in laboratory work at the La Crosse hospital in the nurses' training course.

Friends who have visited her during her internship at the University hospital in Minneapolis, and her later work in the University infirmary and laboratories, tell of the affection in which she is held there, and of her growing skill and success.

NORMA TALMADGE'S Manners

Manners are the mark of the man or the woman. Good or bad, your manners classify you. Courtesy is the art of kindness to others. The kindly mind kindness. Etiquette is the formula for the expression of good breeding. Instinct helps anyone to be properly polite, but the well-informed on etiquette possess social insurance.

Self-control is the essence of good manners. The first requirement of courtesy is composure under all circumstances. To permit one's self to betray irritation, not to say lose one's temper, is a serious breach of form. The hotel guest should be especially mindful of this, otherwise he will incur loss of respect and much needless discomfort.

AT THE HOTEL

1. Any woman traveling alone sign herself in the hotel register with the title "Miss" or "Mrs." Husband and wife register "Mr. and Mrs." never "—and wife"

2. Women receive men who call upon them in the parlor or reception room of the hotel, never in their rooms.

3. If dissatisfied with any feature of the hotel service, complain not to the servants but to the manager.

4. When leaving the hotel, never carry your luggage from the room, but ring for a porter to do this.

5. The woman performing dining alone in the hotel dining room, should take a book to the table with her, thus avoiding idle waiting.

6. It is bad manners to pick up from the floor a fork or other part of the table service you may have dropped; let the waiter do this.

ON THE TRAIN

1. A gentleman steps aside to permit a woman to board a train first, and the woman precedes her male escort down the aisle of the car.

2. A man offers his seat to a woman or elderly man otherwise compelled to stand; no one should permit a man or woman carrying a child to stand for lack of a seat.

3. On the sleeping car the person having the lower berth is entitled to the seat facing forward.

4. A man changing to meet a woman acquaintance on a train may invite her to dine with him, but whether he permits him to pay for her meal depends upon the degree of their acquaintance.

5. Parents traveling with children should not permit them to indulge in antics that will annoy other passengers.

6. It is bad manners to spread your hand baggage in the car aisle where other passengers may stumble over it.

MOTHERS AND INFANTS NEED GREATER CARE

Interesting Address Given By Mrs. Morgan at Chamber of Commerce Luncheon

The necessity for further care of mothers and infants and the value of the county nurses in Wisconsin were the subjects of an address given by Mrs. H. H. Morgan at the regular luncheon meeting at the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday noon. Randolph Schlachet discussed current legislation, stressing the necessity for individual citizens to take an active part in understanding bills introduced in the legislature and in acquainting their representatives of their opinions on them. Officers for the coming year were elected, and the annual reports read.

"During the War," said Mrs. Morgan, "we were impressed by the number of men who were unfit for service, and in our home service we found the crying need for better and more intelligent care of children to prevent this unfitness in adults. In Wisconsin these findings resulted in the county nurses law and in the state children's bureau. In the United States the same conditions, found throughout the country, have resulted in the Shepherd-Towner Act, a measure in the interest of infant welfare and maternity education. This act leaves each state to plan its own campaign of service, stipulating only that no buildings or lands may be bought with the money appropriated under it, and that no agent may forcibly give treatment to any mother or child. Under the act the nation has appropriated $5000 to the state of Wisconsin to continue annually for a period of five years, and will give $22,000 annually if the Wisconsin legislature will match it.

Reducing Mortality

"With the help of this money, the state hopes to reduce the infant mortality within its boundaries one-half within five years. A year ago, 300,000 children died under one year of age, this last year, 250,000 of the same age died. The largest number of children die at an age under one month, which indicates that in most cases the fault is with the prenatal care given the mother. Women in Wisconsin, long for advice about care of themselves and their children.

The county nurse, an equipped nurse which establishes itself in communities throughout the state for maternity and infant welfare work, reports the eagerness of women for assistance in their problems. The "special" is so much in demand that it is impossible to fill anywhere near all the calls for it.

"The county nurse plays an important part in health of a county," Mrs. Morgan continued. "She is able to make normal children in so many cases where they might become more public charges. In cases of delinquency and incorrigibility, which are often physical, which, if taken in time can be cured or prevented and the individuals made useful members of a society. Frequent examination of school children, the province of the nurse in the rural districts, is one of the biggest factors in keeping children out of state schools and making them normal citizens. It is to be hoped that no bill will ever pass our legislature and become a law which invalidates the compulsory county nurse law."

Officers Elected

The officers elected for the coming year by the Community Council are as follows: president, Mrs. J. A. Fairchild; 1st vice-president and chairman of the Child Welfare committee, Mrs. Dean Smith; second vice-president and chairman of the Juvenile and protective committee, Mrs. Susie B. Bruce; third vice-president and chairman of Legislative and Ordinance committee, Mrs. C. E. Soules; 4th vice-president and chairman of the Citizenship and Patriotism committee, Mrs. E. C. Thompson; 5th vice-president and chairman of the Industrial Relations committee, Miss Charlotte Kohn; sixth vice-president and chairman of the Thrift and Conservation committee, Mrs. William Walker; seventh vice-president and chairman of music and drama committee, Mrs. F. E. Nixon; secretary, Mrs. Val. S. Koppel; corresponding secretary, Miss Katherine Gallagher; treasurer, Mrs. G. R. Reay; and assistant secretary, Mrs. Gust F. Severson.

TAX REDUCTIONS THE BATTLE CRY OF LEGISLATORS

Proposals for Creation of New Commissions Meeting With Little Favor

MADISON, Wis., March 3.—When the smoke of the 1923 legislature lifts at the close of the session this summer the state capitol will resume its functions minus any additions to its population.

With tax reductions as a battle cry the half dozen proposals for the new state boards are meeting with little approval by legislative groups and indications are that opponents of new boards and commissions must wait for another legislature to have their projects adopted unless they can show that their proposals are going to make or save money for the state.

The legislative trend is to cut down and the Wisconsin tax is predicted to descend on the bureau of the blind, one of the newest state organizations. Repeal of the law that created this state board will place the care of blind in the jurisdiction of the counties. Many of the counties are urging the abolition of the state bureau.

An indication of what may befall all extension programs came with the killing of the bill which would provide for a state board to license and regulate caddisflies. It was recommended for passage by a committee but was slaughtered in the assembly without a dissenting vote.

Boards for regulation and licensing of horsemen, teachers, doctors, chiropractors, engineers, land surveyors and architects have been provided in bills now before the legislature are being drawn for the future introduction.

Recommendations of committees on bills that reach the floor of the house mean nothing at this season. As yet, committee recommendations have been reversed as approved so far this session.

Legislators claim that they can still hear the cry of the cry in their districts to reduce taxation and they are stripped for action, claiming that the bill waiting for something that can be thrown out of the state to reduce expense.

"Our work is hard" is the motto of the legislators. Institution that may have value but entail expense is considered worth while keeping in the state. Opponents are being organized and a bill for their abolition will always bring votes.

The decision of the assembly to abolish the state civil service commission on Thursday is the latest attempt to cut down. The attempt to abolish the National Guard was another step in the same direction. The latter move which was approved in the assembly and then defeated in the senate drew votes from assemblymen who claimed that they realized the value of the guard but that economy of state government must be cut at all costs.

Even such taxes which class themselves as voluntary as well as from progressive and socialist.

The art of wood engraving is very old. When it was rare to find a printer who could write, little woodcuts for advertising documents were in use in Europe. But the art is now being kept delightfully alive by the Society of Wood Engravers of London.

MINIMUM INCOME FOR FAMILY OF 8 PLACED AT $104.67

Mrs. C. B. Bruce of Social Service Society Gives Figures for Dependent Family

FAMILY OF 8 GETTING $133.83
MONTHLY IS SELF-SUPPORTING

Minimum of $20 Weekly for Couple Declared Insufficient

WHAT is the minimum income on which a young couple can marry and live happily in La Crosse? It might be $200; it might be more. It certainly could not be less than $20 a week, despite the fact that it is well known that Tom Cuppl shows his golden means with his plain delight in the fine disregard of the $ sign.

A survey of those interested in the question of living costs in Minneapolis, Minn., shows that the minimum income on $20 a week, for that figure was surrounded by more $20's and $20's and then some more. It is in La Crosse the minimum income figure on which it is possible for a family to live on is placed at $104.67 a month. This is for a family of eight, father, mother and six children, from the age of 14 years on down to the baby several months old. This figure, $104.67, is used by Mrs. C. B. Bruce, head of the Social Service society, in computing when a family is self-supporting and when it is not.

Can Exist on $104.67

"A family of eight can exist on $104.67 a month," said Mrs. Bruce, "that is about all it takes to get by. For example, $15 is the minimum allowed in this budget for rent. Not in a hotel, but in a place where a family of eight can live with any degree of comfort at a rental of $15 a month. However, it is being done."

But the family living on $104.67 a month is a dependent family unit. They look to the city, state and federal for help. There are, then, during the school year when the children must have out of more articles of clothing which the father is unable to furnish, it is up to the city, through the Social Service society, to supply these necessities.

The minimum on which a family of eight can get along on and be independent, or self-supporting, is $133.83 a month, according to our figures. Our basis for fixing incomes for families that will insure them being able to exist, at least, is established by the results of a survey made a short time ago of the living conditions among 1,000 families in Chicago.

What Self-Supporting Means

When we say a self-supporting family we mean the one which, for its expenses, has an income of $133.83 a month. That will allow 10 percent for church expenses and recreation but does not allow for any payments on house and furniture. We assume that the household furniture has been purchased before the couple started housekeeping. This sum does allow $6.25 a month for household incidentals and repair. It also is possible for the family to purchase clothing, food and fuel, and for itself, but not a projected illness on the part of the wage-earner or anyone else in the family.

At $133.83 a month we allow $5 a month rent, $11 a week for food, $9.25 for fuel, this figure is based on a year's average, $25.20 for clothing, $1.40 for insurance, $6.25 household expenses such as furniture upkeep, 10 percent for church and recreation. In order that the family may not be behind in financial matters, there must be in good health for no special reason, a sick person is included and can be cared for in the $11 food bill.

In Minneapolis there are more young married couples who have no children than there are in La Crosse. There also are more large families among the poor classes than there are in La Crosse, taking into consideration the difference in population. I suppose it possible for two young people to live on $20 a week, that

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Acid Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strain to filter out. When a kidney is overworked, because sluggish, the ultimate filter tissue clog and the result is kidney trouble, and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your head hurts, if you suffer with sore, headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then get free.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and balances in every sense. Keeping nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing once a week. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

MAY YOHE AGAIN ON STAGE

May Yohe, international theatrical favorite of some years ago, may again climb to the pinnacle of theatrical fame. At least that is her aim, and she has begun toward fulfilling it by appearing at a small Melrose, Mass., theatre. In her heyday Mrs. Yohe hobnobbed intimately with kings and mighty nobles, and her romances intrigued the interest of two continents.

There is to be noticed at the present time a very general rush for electric engines, the demand being quite as great as it was at the time immediately before the war. The large construction companies are filling orders which represent all quarters of the globe, indicating the great number of electrification projects which are now under way. The unusual interest which is being displayed in the changing over of steam railroads to electric roads is stimulated by the high prices of fuel, labor and commodities generally. The countries most actively represented in these electrical projects are Spain, France, Chile, Japan and Mexico.

Male and Female Brains The masculine brain works more rapidly than the feminine in association, but it is less original. Abstract reasoning is man's strong point, while woman analyzes, assimilates and combines. Men judge with their reason and women with their instinct and are less apt to be influenced by emotion.

Plays Same Role More Than 2000 Times On the opening night of the revival of "Charles and Anne" at the Royal Theatre in London, James E. Page took the part of Scarrington for the 3276th time.

The photograph was born in Mexico Park, New Jersey, 45 years ago.

It is possible for a young couple to live on $20 a week, that is, if they are not too lazy to work. But I believe that income, for the most part, is not a happy one in families. The chief reason of the people's unhappiness is that they are not willing to work hard for all the time and money that they might make in from time to time because of a slim chance.

CHRISTIAN CHURCHES UNITE TO RESTORE WORLD-WIDE PEACE

Bishop of Rhode Island Heads Movement Looking Toward Conference of Churchmen

NEW YORK.—Concrete plans to muster the united efforts of the Christian churches of the world for the restoration of world peace and tranquility are behind the announcement that Rt. Rev. James De Wolf Perry, bishop of Rhode Island, has accepted the chairmanship of the executive committee of the Episcopal church commission on the world conference on faith and order. He will establish headquarters in Providence, Rhode Island, to begin work on the details of a conference of churchmen representing 15 Christian denominations in the United States, Europe, Asia, Africa, Canada and Australia which will meet in Washington in May, 1925. Planned originally to restore unity among the Christian churches throughout the world, it is the earnest belief of those behind the movement that a supreme duty confronts the church today of restoring peace and order through a practical application of the doctrine of Christian brotherhood. In a brief statement, Bishop Perry says:

"For the uniting of a divided world, the leadership of an united Christian church is necessary. The world conference on faith and order will bring Christendom together for the first time in many centuries to consider the differences which have stood in the way of unity, not in the spirit of controversy, but in a sympathetic desire on the part of every church concerned to understand the position of every other. The leaders in this movement are convinced that such conferences will result in a new emphasis upon the most important matters of belief, and will point the way to ultimate union."

Actively associated with Bishop Perry in the work immediately ahead will be the Rev. Flood W. Tompkins, Jr., of Pittsburgh, as secretary. Mr. Tompkins will be in charge of the headquarters of the commission at Providence, and will give his entire time to the work.

The year for the world conference on faith and order originated at the Episcopal general convention of 1916, and the immediate result was the appointment of a commission by that denomination of which Bishop William T. Manning of New York is the chairman. Through this commission overtures were made for a conference of all Christian churches, to consider questions pertaining to faith and order with a view to bringing unity.

A preliminary conference of church representatives was held in the summer of 1920, at Geneva, Switzerland, when a continuation commission was appointed to take charge of the movement. It is now the duty of this commission to prepare a plan of action, similar to that originally presented by the Episcopal church and representing nearly all the important Christian churches throughout the world, participating in the movement.

The objective of the continuation committee is the world conference of all the participating churches in Washington in May, 1925. In the meantime every effort will be made to bring about concerted action by all

Central Europe's First Emigrant Express

Central Europe is to have a special Emigrant Express from Warsaw to Trieste, and encouragement in the way of special rates and accommodations will be extended. The Emigrant Express, which will be the first train to link Poland directly with the Adriatic, will not only carry Polish emigrants seeking a new home in America but also will pick up passengers in various cities of Czechoslovakia and Austria.

Airplane Hospitals

Giant airplanes equipped as flying hospitals, with white-walled operating theatres and staffed with surgeons and anaesthetists, in addition to pilots and mechanics, are to be supplied to the French colonial medical services for carrying out work in remote territories.

These special hospitals will have triple specially designed engines, and vibrations and oscillations will be reduced to a minimum, so that even most serious operations can be carried out while the patient is being borne through the clouds.

Origin of the Humble Cabbage

The first cabbage in England was cultivated by an ancestor of Lord Shaftesbury, Sir Anthony Ashley, at the ancestral home, St. Giles' House. This fact explains the reason for the cabbage leaves carried on the tomb of Sir Ashley.

DO YOU KNOW March 3 to 10

IS

National Canned Foods Week?

"The Consumer's Opportunity"

Canned Foods the Choicest of All Seasons

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES are taken direct from the fields or orchards when they are in the right condition of maturity, and it is but a few hours until they are prepared, canned and cooked.

Within three or four hours from the time the food is growing on the stalk or vine the greater part of it is cooked and safely stored in the warehouse. A small part may be allowed to wait longer than the above minimum, but seldom longer than the day's run, for each day's picking is put up before beginning a new.

The consumer gets fresh fruit and vegetables in the winter months instead of being limited to a diet of dried apples, salt pork and hominy. He is indebted to the canner for fresh, health-giving food fifty-two weeks in the year.

Modern canning factories not only put up fresh, clean food, but the can itself is first sterilized by washing with live steam before the food goes in.

After the fruits, vegetables and other products are put in the can, the can is sealed air tight, and it is then that the food is cooked. The sealed cans with fresh food inside them are put into retorts and cooked at a high heat and under steam pressure till the contents are sterilized. The can is never opened after cooking until it is opened in the kitchen of the consumer, miles away and maybe months later, but it opens up almost as fresh and tender as the day it was taken from the field.

Opacco Peas.

Young, fresh, tender, green peas shelled, cleaned, washed, separated into different sizes, inspected, parboiled in fresh clean water, after which the empty cans, freshly sterilized with steam and hot water, are filled with measured quantities of peas, in enameled filling machines, which also place in each can about eight ounces of sparkling pure water in which fine granulated sugar and the finest table salt in measured quantity have been dissolved. The cans are then hermetically sealed and cans and contents are cooked under pressure at temperatures not possible under other methods.

Suggestions in Buying and Using Onalaska Peas

The liquor from canned peas should never be thrown away as much of the good flavor has been imparted to the liquor.

If the peas are to be served dry as in patty shells, or for garnishing, or in salads, heat the entire contents of the can, including the liquor, which should be drained off and saved for use in soup or gravy.

Peas are thoroughly cooked in the cannery and therefore should only be heated to serve; additional cooking is unnecessary, in fact, prolonged cooking destroys the flavor.

Select the proper pea for the particular use you wish to make of it. For creamed soups use larger size peas, either "Bagley" or "Challenge" Early Variety or "Eclipse" Sweet Variety as the larger sizes contain more starch and are better suited for soup.

For vegetable soups where the whole pea is used try medium or small sizes of Early Variety as they are round and more firm and will not "mush up" like the small siftings in Sweet Variety.

For formal dinners use either "Peerless" or "Opacco" in "Tiny" size 1, or "Extra Sifted" size 2, while for family use, especially where there are growing children, use medium size peas of either variety, according to preference.

Try "Peerless" or "Opacco" Sifted Early Variety, size 3, served in the liquor with butter added. Then try "La Crosse County" Sweet Wrinkled Peas or "Onalaska" Sweet Variety and watch the real pleasure of the family. For salads in which apples or celery are used, try "Peerless" or "Opacco" Sifted Early Variety, size 3, and for salads containing nuts try "Onalaska" Early Variety.

Spring MILLINERY Is Ribbon and Color

The Millinery Department certainly hasn't a dull spot in it. Ribbons do so many things you'll wonder what they are going to do next. Then there's a lot of glisten—haircloth and other shiny affairs. And shapes that twist and turn, but never get far away from some sort of helmety shape or the other. And the new berry shades carry the honors in color—with a now-and-then flash of green.

BUSINESS SUFFERS SLIGHTLY DURING THE LENTEN DAYS

Custom of Fasting Causes Slight Decrease in Amount of Entertainment and Spending

A general slump in business has been noted by theater managers, dance hall proprietors and confectioners of the city since the advent of the season of Lent a little over two weeks ago. Many persons, of all creeds and denominations practice self-denial during this period, and as a result all forms of business which cater to entertainment or luxury are bound to suffer.

While it seems that women are more rigid in their fasting than the men, still the sale of tobacco and other smoking supplies has suffered a slight decrease since Ash Wednesday. The soda fountains are perhaps the hardest hit by the Lenten resolutions, their trade falling off appreciably. Candy sales are way down in some places, while others report no apparent change in the amount of sweets sold. These places reporting no change are generally found to be billiard room soda fountains and candy counters, where practically all of the patrons are boys and men.

Very few private dances or parties of any size are attempted during Lent in this city, and those which are given are considerably lacking in their usual gayety. One proprietor of a public dance hall in the city declares that the only difference he notices during the Lenten season is that the crowds on the first Saturday night, and on the last Saturday night of the season are much smaller than ordinarily. At other times, the hall does a normal amount of business, he says. The proprietor of another public dancing hall has cut down on the number of dances during Lent, and managers of traveling orchestras report that this year the demand for their services is so slight that some orchestras have disbanded until after Easter.

Another phase of the Lenten season is the increased attendance at all of the churches of the city. Most of the churches have special Lenten devotions several times during the week.

THE WALRUS

One time has come the Walrus said
To talk of many things
Of shoes and ships and sealing wax
Of cabbages and kings.

(By C. A. W.)

A group of citizens comprising two dozen well known young businessmen, met in a downtown law office a few days ago and took the last legal step necessary to wind up the business of the La Crosse Housing Corporation. This little company was formed the year after the war to build homes in this city at a time when the housing shortage was keen and when it was almost as difficult to find a vacant residence as it is to locate a snowball in June. The thirty men who became members of the corporation put up $10,000 in cash and with this nucleus of a fund and such credit as the company was able to muster, 25 homes were erected in the east end and south end. The greatest achievement of the Housing Corporation was the playing and grading of Grand View addition, a handsome tract lying between Cass and Main and Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets. There are fifteen handsome new homes on this tract and practically all of the remaining lots have been purchased by prospective homebuilders. Down in the south end of the city a group of thirty small, modern houses adorn the Mormon cause road and set a snare for the neighborhood. Affairs of the Housing Corporation were wound up according to Hoyte, I am told, with all debts paid and a clean page to mark "finis" for an organization which did its bit toward developing and beautifying the residence sections of the city in commendable style.

I observe a movement of the urban population countryward which deserves special mention at this time. The rural life inclination has hit three well known families recently. Howard Hundemark has purchased the Winter homestead, the big brick house with the surrounding fir trees located on the south side of the Mormon coulee road a short distance beyond the orphanage. After the State bank closes in the afternoon, Howard can be seen beating it toward home in his car at a merry clip, and a half hour later he can be found busily engaged with a big flock of chickens or doing other chores about his country estate, happy as a lark in the possession of a nice big home equipped with all modern conveniences and seven acres of land to do with as he pleases.

Closely following announcement of the Hundemark family taking up its abode in the country came word that Frank Forbes and his son-in-law, Archie Oberg, have purchased the Easton farm, lying just east of the city on the State road, across the road from Greenacres. Coming into possession of fifty acres of as fine land as lies outdoors, the Forbes-Oberg combination is making elaborate plans for the first year on the farm. Incidentally they acquire a fine herd of registered cattle and a going business, which is firmly established in an exceptionally good location. There is a cowman's house on the farm and a larger home which the Forbes-Oberg families will occupy. These new grangers promise to have an honest-to-goodness farm in operation by the middle of June, and if hard work and enthusiasm will help we know they will make good and find a full measure of enjoyment out of their agricultural venture.

One of the best bits of good news I have heard this month is an announcement that that part of the turnpike which lies between the West channel bridge and La Crosse is on the program of Minnesota state highway department to be widened and surfaced this year. The hike will be widened uniformly to 27 feet, be paved the full width and have iron guard rails on both sides, according to the Highway Chief. Minnesota was late in starting its good road campaign but no time is being lost by Mr. Babcock in blazing new trails across the gopher state. A fine scenic highway bordering the river on the other side and which will tap the gateway city's west door will be one of the best on the Minnesota map.

I see that "Dick" Davis, chairman of the county board, was re-elected president of the Wisconsin County Board association at the annual meeting in Madison. Mr. Davis is known as one of the foremost good road boosters in the state and his knowledge of county board matters, acquired in two decades of active service, makes him an authority on many topics. I wouldn't be a bit surprised to see "Dick" land a good state job some day.

A colored gentleman who helps male customers on and off with their overcoats in a downtown business house was persuaded one day recently, to engage in a friendly game of "bones" with a regular customer. The onslaught was fast and furious and in about five minutes the customer found himself minus 22 shillings. Excusing himself for his luck, the colored boy said: "Don't blame me for this. You brought it all on yourself. Ah had you all brushed off and your overcoat on and you was all ready to go. But you wouldn't go and jest naturally I would go into temptation. And now see what happens. Don't blame me, boss; you sure did bring this on yourself."

SUPERIOR GIRL'S HAT
SUPERIOR, Wis.—Bright head-gear may be all the rage, but the "Hammings" of all was discovered on an unconscious young woman promenading through the business district. She was walking beneath the windows of an old hotel. Some one tossed the lighted stub of a cigarette out of the window and before the spark died out, her veil caught fire and almost immediately the hat was ablaze. Surprised indeed was the maid when she was grabbed by a strange man, who snatched her hat from her head, but not so surprised but that she refused to disclose her name.

SEeks TO RECOVER CHILDREN
DUNNELL, Minn.—Sven Pearson, mayor of Dunnell, and Rev. W. C. Fleischer, Lutheran pastor here, have taken the lead in an effort to prevent the three children of Peter J. Olson being held from him by the state board of control, which placed them in a state institution. There was no complaint made of non-sup-

BIGGEST FISH OF WINTER CAUGHT THROUGH ICE BY EIGHTY-YEAR-OLD OUTER

Ye followers of Izak Walton who imagine all the baby whales which infest the water hereabouts are in the Mississippi river—learn now your mistake.

Back twelve miles from the father of waters in a 14' old mill pond Frank McClintock, aged 80 years, fishing through the ice, caught the biggest fish of the winter in this county when he brought up a pickerel which tipped the scales at eighteen pounds. This monster was caught in the mill-pond at Neshonoc and you can find a half hundred or more pickerels of West Salem, which is only one mile away who will swear the fish weighed eighteen pounds and what is more, that Frank caught two other fish through the ice on the same pond this winter which tipped the scales at fifteen and sixteen pounds respectively.

Although an octogenarian, Frank McClintock is known as one of the most ambitious and capable all around sportsmen up Salem way, or throughout the county for that matter. He is a tireless hunter and will track game all day without signs of weariness and he will run a foot race for a mile or five miles at the drop of the hat. Incidentally he is a red-hot baseball fan, a good player of pocket billiards and a fisherman of renown, as the accompanying picture will prove.

If there is anyone around these parts who can beat this for a mild sport or abuse of the children, Olson's friends say, but he is a widower, and the action of the board was based on the ground that the moral conditions at the Olson home were not good.

CANTON COLLEGE STUDENTS BRING CHEER TO CONVICTS

Industrial Prisoners at Canton Receive Gifts and Message of Good-will

CANTON.—South of Canton, a century-old fortress houses an industrial prison. It stands opposite "Macco Fort," past which Sun Yat-sen's ships fought their way last July. The bank of the river on the prison side had been a well-kept garden, but that day intrenching troops destroyed it and it has never been restored.

Students from Canton Christian college visited there this Christmas with a message of good-will, and a small but much appreciated gift for each prisoner. Owing to the fineness of the doors and gates, and the antiquity of the protective apparatus (including the guards), each man and boy is shackled with a chain connecting his ankles, except for the trustees—who wear on one leg two anklets and no chain.

An extraordinary touch was lent to the Christmas service the students conducted, by the startling crosses outlined in hair on each prisoner's head, a sort of branding accomplished with clippers. The prisoners fought for their little individual packages of two towels, two tangerines, oranges and a few peanuts. Then they passed back to their 8x12 rooms, four to a room.

The prison is rickety and dark but in no respect filthy. The men seemed fairly well clothed and fed. Teaching of printing, shoe-making, and weaving has been carried on there with considerable success.

If your nostrils are clogged, your throat distressed, or your head is stuffed by nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic, germ destroying cream into your nostrils. No more hacking, snuffling, dryness or struggling for breath. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from any druggist. Colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up. Relief is sure.

AN EXPLANATION of OSTEOPATHIC ADJUSTMENT

Spinal adjustment originated with Osteopathy. It is still the corner-stone of this science.

But spinal adjustment is not sufficient to all. Important as its part in the vast majority of cases, there still remains those in which diet, environment, mental distress and habit must be dealt with.

Osteopathic adjustment includes the care of all these.

The services of the Osteopathic physician include everything necessary to restore all factors involved in the individual problem to a normal basis. From this restoration, Nature proceeds to health.

The true physician must reckon with every factor that enters into the case before him. Such is the service Osteopathy renders.

FORMATION OF NEW TOWN RECALLS OLD CASTLE ROCK STORY

Romantic Spot in Monroe County Declared Scene of Ancient Indian Love Tragedy

FRENCHMAN AND INDIAN GIRL DEFIED CHIEF WAR EAGLE

Storms of Years Have Crumbled Rock and Torn Down Cedars

TOMAH, Wis.—With the new town of Castle Rock, of slight, Monroe county recalls the romantic Indian legend ever associated with that natural beauty spot, Castle Rock, for which the new town is to be named. Nearly every resident of the county has made at least one pilgrimage to "the rock," situated about five miles northeast of St. Paul. The rock is visible for a long distance along the St. Paul railway when approaching the city from the west. On clear days it can be seen from nearly all portions of the county. The rock is an enormous bluff six hundred feet high, and is reached by a ladder. From its appearance and similarity to an ancient castle, the bluff received its name.

More than 200 years ago, a roving band of Senecas, made a raid upon the Dakotas and captured a young Indian girl, daughter of a chief of the Seneca band. A terrible storm having struck down the Seneca band, the brother of the chief took the captive girl to the French mission where Mackinac is now located. Here the girl and her captor lived for many years. The girl, who was named Silent Water, was a beautiful young woman. She was loved by a young Frenchman who was banished from his native land for being a person of rank in a duel. A tender affection sprang up between these two lonely ones of the wilderness. The appearance of War Eagle, the chief of the Seneca band, who had followed the girl, was a great disappointment to the Frenchman. War Eagle was a powerful man, and was feared by all. He was a great warrior, and had many victories. He was a great leader, and his people followed him. He was a great man, and his people loved him. He was a great warrior, and was feared by all. He was a great leader, and his people followed him. He was a great man, and his people loved him.

AMERICAN LEGION IS PLANNING BIG MEMBERSHIP DRIVE SOON; DOES GOOD WORK FOR BUDDIES

THE officers of the Roy L. Vingers post of the American Legion are planning a vigorous membership campaign to be launched in the near future. It was announced last week. Though the post now includes several hundred of the former service men of the city, not nearly all of the ex-soldiers are in line with the Legion buddies, and it is necessary, the officers state, to the life and prosperity of the Legion that all become members.

One of the chief claims to the support of ex-service men which is made by the Legion is the report of the work done by the post adjutant's office during the years of 1921 and 1922.

Report of Work

The following report was submitted by R. F. Schultz, post adjutant: During the years of 1921 and 1922 219 cases of compensation were reviewed, for which $179,378.02 has been collected.

Fifty six cases of vocational training, for which the sum of $181,658 has been collected. Eighty cases of bonus claims, which include the Wisconsin educational bonus and bonuses from other states, which were payable before Dec. 31, 1922, amounting all to $26,421.20.

Twenty cases of collected travel pay, totalling $497.22. Back pay collected $513. Allowances collected $212.56. Collected $82,486 for permanently disabled ex-service men or their beneficiaries.

Clothing for ten men. Fourteen lost discharges recovered. The rock became the castle of the lovers, and on its very summit their wedding was celebrated. Autumn was beginning to brighten the leaves on the oaks with a ruddy hue and the lovers had decided to continue their journey when an incident occurred which took all hope from their hearts.

War Eagle, who had spent much time seeking his daughter, came upon the pair just as they were ready to resume their journey toward the mission. Silent Water's father was a powerful man, and was feared by all. He was a great warrior, and had many victories. He was a great leader, and his people followed him. He was a great man, and his people loved him.

Converted and reinstated $181,000 worth of government insurance, making a total of 390 cases handled in the two years, and the collecting of $471,132.

It is upon the strength of this report that the Legion bases its claim for new members, though the Legionnaires do not claim that collecting of the amount, nearly $500,000, is due entirely to their efforts. They do say, however, that had it not been for the efforts of the Legion, many claims which have already been cleared up would still be pending, and many who are now enjoying the benefits of vocational training or compensation in another form, would never have filed a claim had not the Legion been ready to render assistance.

The report given above does not include money loaned, meals, railroad fare, hospital bills, clothing, affidavits made out and claims filed which have not been heard from or which have been disallowed.

Entitled to Support

"We think," said Robert W. Keres, Jr., commander of the local post, "that such a record of accomplishment entitles us to the support of every ex-service man in town. The more members that are enrolled in the Legion the better able we will be to carry on our good work. A man owes it to himself to join the Legion if he is eligible. It is not to his former buddies. The Legion, as such, is a powerful influence for good, and no one knows when he is going to need for himself, just the sort of help the Legion can give."

could not see to come down, declaring at the same time that he intended to kill Le Cleve and take Silent Water home. The lovers resolved to die together, if die they must, but concluded to sell their lives dearly, so they made instant preparation to defend their fortress.

The siege lasted many days in the annihilation of the lovers' time seeking his daughter, came upon the pair just as they were ready to resume their journey toward the mission. Silent Water's father was a powerful man, and was feared by all. He was a great warrior, and had many victories. He was a great leader, and his people followed him. He was a great man, and his people loved him.

was hurled from the rock by the Frenchman. A moment later War Eagle's followers killed Le Cleve.

Storms Tear Rock Down

The storms of more than two centuries have torn and crumbled the stately form and graceful battlements of Castle Rock into small rocks and sandy debris. Its beautiful flowering shrubbery and noble crown of evergreens have long since disappeared. Naught but scraggy stubs and roots of tall red cedars that once adorned the summit are left to tell the tale of the terrible tragedy of Silent Water and her French lover. The name however will remain to the end of time, and is chosen for the new town soon to be molded from Monroe county's territory. Those who love the story and the romantic site of the tragedy, rejoice at the choice of the name for the new town, Castle Rock.

MARQUETTE GLEE CLUB TO APPEAR IN CITY APRIL 11

Will Give Concert Under Auspices of Knights of Columbus, Followed by Dance

It E. Sweeney, Tour Director and Business Manager of the Marquette University Glee Club who was in the city last week in the interests of that organization, completed arrangements with the local Knights of Columbus for the appearance of the club under their sponsorship on April 11, in a concert followed by a dance at Pioneer hall.

This organization has toured Wisconsin and Michigan for the past four years and has won an enviable reputation for high class musical work both vocal and instrumental. At the request of their hosts, during the early history of the club, many of them have been booked to visit the city in order that the school and club may become better known in other sections of the state and the surrounding states the organization this year will sing in cities in the Western part of Wisconsin and in Minnesota.

Henry Winsauer, director of the club says: "This year's Marquette Glee Club will be superior to any club which has thus far represented the University. Already it has developed to a point where it is in advance of the state of perfection attained by last year's club at a corresponding time. I am enthusiastic over the concert in the club this year for the concert of its members is always the fact that 75 percent of the men have been considered as the club's choir, or chorus, and experience. This fact added to the enthusiasm evoked by members, promises any possibility of anything but a high standard of excellence for the Glee Club of Marquette."

The Glee club's orchestra of six pieces is an experienced group of musicians who have played considerably for school dances and for numerous affairs around the city of Milwaukee. Their music for the dances, which are given after the concert is something to look forward to and will be a genuine treat to those in the city who are dance enthusiasts.

FIRE DEPARTMENT BRINGS NEW BORN BABY TO LIFE

CINCINNATI. By the Associated Press. Persistent work of members of the lifesaving squad of the Cincinnati fire department, according to the J. Schwartz, saved the life of baby Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes of this city, who Thursday was enjoying his first day of life. The baby visited the Hughes home early on Thursday and left baby Hughes in a state of suspended animation. Dr. Schwartz, who attended, called upon the members of the lifesaving squad and after three hours of work with a pulmonary pump, managed to restore breathing.

This system, which has made such a wonderful impression upon those, must be the Marmola Prescription Tablets method of reducing fat. It is safe to say that it is the best method for this purpose in this country. Anything that will reduce the excess flesh steadily and easily without injury to the stomach, the taking of medicines, the help of exercise or dieting, or interference with work means an 8 night's improvement and the addition to civilization's treasures. Just such a catalogue of good results follow the use of these Marmola Prescription Tablets. They are safe, reliable and economical. In fact, they are the most economical of all. We say economical because Marmola Prescription Tablets, made in a condensed form with the famous Marmola Prescription Tablets, can be obtained at the lowest price of any drug in the world. ## TRAFFIC PLAN WANTED

How to Open Up Clogged Roads Puzzles Officials.

Automobile traffic has come to such a degree of congestion that city planners and police authorities the country over are hard pressed trying to solve this serious problem. In spite of all sorts of suggestions, large cities are no nearer the solution than they were when the matter first forced itself to their attention. One-way streets, two-level roads, subdivided truck and passenger car traffic, all sorts of control towers and other devices have been considered, and even tried, yet congestion grows worse year by year.

New York City—of all cities—has been hardest hit in this respect. In fact, traffic has grown so, that parking in the downtown district—old New York—has long been abandoned. Even this relief has been temporary, and now city officials face the same old question of congestion. This time it is not so much a problem of getting the cars out of the city as it is how to keep them moving without delay.

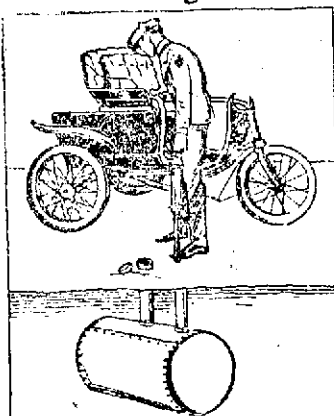

That this is a serious problem may be deduced from the single fact that 4200 autos pass Fifth avenue and 42nd street. New York's busiest corner—each hour of the day's liveliest hours. Forty-two hundred autos, lined up end to end, would stretch along more than 11 miles. On Fifth avenue they go six abreast, three lines going north and three south.

This, in a less degree perhaps, is the problem of every growing community in the country. Parking can be cared for, in one way or another, by underground parking stations, for example.

But keeping traffic moving has been a difficult job. One-way streets have aided some, but in comparison with the whole situation they have proven of little avail. Traffic towers, special directional movements and other forms of relief have helped, but still the problem of congestion remains.

For a solution, something bigger than any of the relief measures already taken must be considered. Police Commissioner Knight of New York thought first of cutting a street parallel to Fifth avenue, in the long block between this thoroughfare and Sixth avenue. But the cost of this would be so high that the plan could not be considered.

First Filling Station

A small tank and a hand pump made up the first gasoline filling station, 25 years ago, as the sketch shows. It is from an advertisement of a tank manufacturer, who suggested its use as an entrance against the fire and for the underground storage of other volatile liquids, besides gasoline.

Another plan, which New York now is thinking over seriously, is that of running important cross streets underneath Fifth avenue, so traffic would not be stopped either way. This idea has been taken up in other cities and, up to today, it seems the nearest to the solution of this most serious form of traffic congestion.

Popular inter-city roads, on pleasant days, offer the same problem of traffic congestion.

To relieve this situation, Connecticut is trying out a new plan on the Boston Post Road, between Bridgeport and New York. Instead of widening the road the authorities will have a parallel highway constructed. Passenger traffic will be confined to the old road, while trucks will be forced to use the new one.

This plan may prove of great help in relieving country traffic congestion. But even doubling the width of most of our highways might be enough to open up the clogged lines of traffic along them.

BRITISH METROPOLIS RE-OPENS ITS DOORS TO GERMAN WAITERS

Many to Return to Places in London as Britain Lifts the Ban on Germans

BERLIN.—After the beginning of the new year I shall not be serving you any longer. I am going back to try and get my old position in England."

A servile German waiter in one of Berlin's better-class restaurants was overheard making the above remark in English to an American diner. Asked why he had delayed so long after the war in seeking re-employment abroad, the waiter explained that only on December 23 had the English government lifted its post-war ban on German arrivals.

For this man, and doubtless hundreds of others in his calling here, that date had stood out long as a red-letter day on his calendar. He has been working for months and supporting his family, with no other remuneration from the restaurant than the ten per cent tip legally proscribed for waiters in Germany, together with such added gratuities as benevolent guests were inclined to give.

It is estimated that there are abroad now only one-sixth of the German and Austrian cooks and waiters who were in foreign employ before the war. When hostilities broke out many dropped their knives and forks in other lands to come home and pick up a rifle; others were deported or interned; some were caught while visiting in Germany and, unwilling or otherwise, became a part of the military forces.

In 1914 there were some 2,000 German and Austrian cooks in foreign countries, and 15,000 waiters. Today there are from 500 to 1,000 cooks and about three times that many waiters. The latter figures do not include a large number of Germans who remained in the United States throughout the war.

Chicago is cited here as having hitherto been the most popular single point of attraction in the outside world. In that city alone, before the war, the German and Austrian cooks numbered 300 and the waiters no less than 1,000.

European countries also drew many of these employees away from their native tables, and it is a source of surprise to many tourists here that frequently the man who serves them can speak as many as six languages. London abounded in German waiters, and naturally the recent relaxation in the English restrictions finds wide favor among many here who are chafing at confinement within the vicious circle of low wages and high costs of living, with a mark that is constantly depreciating in value.

SALESMANSHIP IS A REAL SCIENCE DECLARES SPEAKER

It Makes Success for Large Corporations Says Elmer Remp in Talk at High School

Elmer Remp, salesmanager for the Standard Oil company, talked to the class in salesmanship at the High School Friday afternoon. Mr. Remp gave a very interesting, practical talk based on his own experience as a salesman since he finished his high school course some few years ago.

The students listened with keen interest to Mr. Remp and at the close of his address they handed in the following choice expressions of the speaker:

No matter what profession you are in, you are a salesman and it is up to you to sell your service.

Every vocation on earth deals with salesmanship.

Reason for success of large concerns is salesmanship.

To be an employee of the Standard Oil company, you must have personality, loyalty, honesty and ability.

You should have foresight and ability to solve difficulties.

Remember to start at the bottom and you will come up three times as fast as though you broke in at the middle.

To be a successful salesman, you must be "sold" on the goods you are selling.

A large corporation will not throw you down after you have given the better part of your life in its service.

There is no such thing as "red tape," because there is a reason for each and every question asked.

The business world of today needs more power than any other power.

The experience of one is the progress of another. With such wonderful opportunities as the present day offers our destiny is in our own hands.

If you are worthy, the firm that employs you will teach you and develop you and furnish you with the desired opportunity.

DENMARK'S ALPHABETICAL WAR

There is a battle of the big and little letters now raging in Denmark. The Danish language, like the German, has hitherto adhered to the old-fashioned practice of spelling its nouns with capital letters, but a progressive movement of growing strength demands the substitution of the little letters in conformity with English, French and other languages. The demand has aroused the fury of the conservative elements.

Now Minister of Education, Appel has determined to introduce the small letter practice in the schools. As in the Bolshevik reform of the Russian orthography and the Bulgarian changes, the big letter and the small letter have become symbols of political opinion.

BROADCASTING HOTEL ORDERS

Horace Greedy of the weird hand-writing could never have held the position of a hotel manager or an assistant manager of one of our modern hostels. His penmanship was too illegible. The management of big hotel departments, from the cold storage to the linen department, involves the use of the telegraph to a marvelous extent. Miss Jolly host of the old time hostelry needs to be an expert in the use of the telegraph to manage things by modern methods. He sits in his office and the moving finger beside him which records his orders is a telegraph which inscribes his messages at the same time in as many departments as he desires by the pressure of a finger upon electric buttons.

SPARTA HERALD IS CELEBRATING 68TH YEAR THIS WEEK

Paper Has Been Owned Continuously for 53 Years by the McBride Family

SPARTA, Wis.—The Sparta Herald enters this week the sixty-eighth year of its existence. The Sparta Herald was the first regular newspaper in Monroe county, according to records. It has been published under different names at different times during this period.

The paper was established in 1855, and was called the Sparta Watchman. It was established by Milton Montgomery and J. D. Condit. This was before there were any railroads in Monroe county, and the printing outfit, which was bought at Beaver Dam, was brought to Sparta by wagon. These two men published the paper for a year and then sold it to Lucius M. Rose, who came to Sparta from Watertown.

Mr. Rose changed the name of the paper to the Monroe County Freeman, and published it until 1858, when it was purchased by David McBride, father of the present owner, who came here from Mauston, where he had published the Mauston Star. He changed the name to the Sparta Herald, which name it has kept up to the present, with the exception of about two years, when the paper passed into democratic hands and was known as the Sparta Democrat. This was from 1867-69, when it passed into the hands of William J. Whipple, who edited it until he went to Winona, where he was later engaged in the newspaper business for many years.

In 1869 the paper again came to be the property of D. McBride, who took in as partner, his son W. McBride, the present owner of the Herald.

They rechristened the paper the Sparta Herald, and from then until now it has been a strong Republican paper.

At the time the McBrides repurchased the paper, they numbered their first issue, Volume 1, Number 1.

and, so, although the paper is 68 years old, the volume number is 53, fifty-three years' ownership by one family. There are many people in Sparta and vicinity, who have taken the Herald for more than half a century.

The past few years, the active management has passed into other hands than those of the owner, although Mr. McBride still retains his office in the building and takes an active interest in the publication. James Spragling is now editing the paper.

Nature's Refrigerating Plant
There is a natural cold storage plant at Zack, near St. Joe, Ark. It is a mammoth cave and, although its refrigerating possibilities have been known for years, it is only recently that it has been fitted with doors and bins and used for storage purposes. The portion of the cave utilized at present is a stretch 100 feet wide and more than a quarter mile deep and the past season has been used to store a record fruit crop.

EXCAVATIONS IN ENGLAND DISCLOSE ANCIENT VILLAGE

Remains of an ancient village, the first portion of which was discovered in 1904 when sewage beds were made, have been found recently during sewage development works at Wisley, Surrey. The date of the village is considered to be from 50 B. C. to A. D. 50.

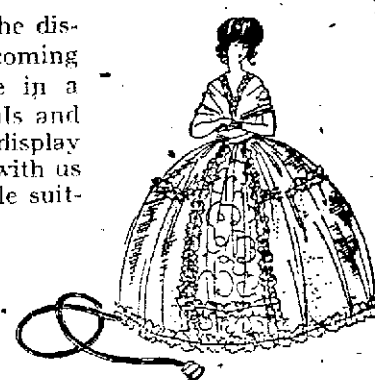

Investigations have been very difficult because most of the site of the village was dug away in 1904. On the present occasion a few dwellings had been found. These consisted of circular pits, 6 feet to 7 feet across and a couple of feet deep. They were filled up with sand, but were quite distinct when seen in section.

They contained minute fragments of broken pottery. Unfortunately, the nature of the sandy soil was such that all bones, all metal, and all wooden implements had been destroyed. Pottery was the only thing that could be found, and it was only in two places that the pieces of pottery were large enough to be of any archaeological value. Years ago, at the foot of the village, a "dugout" canoe, evidently belonging to the village, was discovered. That is now in the Weybridge museum. Flint implements were also found at that time.

WISCONSIN SOLONS HANDLING BIG VOLUME OF BUSINESS IN EFFORT TO SHORTEN SESSION

MADISON, Wis., March 3.—(By The Associated Press.)—The legislature appears to be making a determined effort to shorten the present session by undertaking a volume of work not previously attempted, judging by the number of committee hearings scheduled. Bulletins for coming week show 150 bills to be heard, with daily calendars in both houses crowded with measures up for action.

Education is to command the principal attention in committees during the week. The important educational bills of the session are before a joint meeting of the assembly committee on education and the senate committee on education and public welfare.

This joint body on Thursday will consider the Dahl bill abolishing the university and normal school regents and the state board of education, with creation of a central state board of education to take their place. Centralization of educational administration is sought through this measure.

The previous day it has Gary bill providing for the abolition of the state board of education and the creation of a new board, to take over the activities of the superintendent of public instruction. Both of the measures are of marked importance to the state's educational system.

Right for College Courses
The right for college courses in normal schools is up on Wednesday with the consideration of the Trask bill. The Milwaukee Normal school, the Milwaukee state teachers' college and making the continuance of college courses in that school mandatory. A junior college division is to be established should the bill pass.

A memorial to congress to provide that no declaration of war shall become effective until approved by the people in a referendum vote, as proposed by a resolution of Senator Herk.

NATIONS OF WORLD INVITED BY PRESIDENT HARDING TO 'ATTEND DAIRY MEET HERE

WASHINGTON.—President Harding has invited all nations to send representatives to the World's Dairy Congress, which will meet in Washington from October 2 to 5. Its object will be to get together and exchange the information gained by the latest research into the influence of milk and milk products on national health, into means of reducing the costs of production and distribution, into improving the quality of dairy products, into the international economic principles bearing on the dairy industry and methods of sanitary control.

The meeting will have its finger in every American's pie because 81 out of every 100 people in this country live on milk, butter, cheese, or some other dairy product. The money expended to circulate in America annually by the cow is equal in amount to more than a third of the nation's income. The dairy industry is the backbone of the American economy. The department of agriculture and the census bureau figure the United States has around 25,000,000 dairy cattle and that their products on the farms have a value annually of two and a half billion dollars. It is estimated that from the time the milk leaves the cow till it reaches the consumer, in various forms its value has been enhanced from 100 to 1,000 per cent.

Dairy-Ranching Industry
At the time of the last census, the managers of 1,565,753 farms, 71 per cent of America's 6,148,266 with an estimated value for land, buildings and machinery of 48 billion dollars reported dairy cattle. It is estimated that 25,000,000 people, a quarter of the continental population, live on the farms producing dairy cattle. There is no telling how many people and how many dollars are employed in conveying dairy products from the farm to the dinner table—or the ice cream counter. It is known that of the nearly 50 billion pounds of milk produced in America in 1921, more than 45 billion pounds were used for drinking or cooking purposes in the homes and that 16 1/2 billion pounds were manufactured into food—nearly 20 billion pounds going into butter alone, most of which was consumed in America. The per capita consumption of milk in 1921 amounted to 121 1/2 pounds, or 45 gallons a year, of 51 1/2 pounds, or 6 gallons, for the year.

The World's Dairy Congress represents the first unified effort of Racine, is before the state affairs committee of the senate on Thursday. The joint committee on highways on Wednesday has four bills providing for registration of automobiles and testing stations for automobile lights.

A bill by Assemblyman Clayton G. Price providing for the nomination of candidates for president and vice-president of the United States by direct primary election will have a hearing before the committee on elections.

The labor committee has a hearing on the regulation of barbers proposed in a bill by Assemblyman E. H. Kilian. The bill would provide for the creation of a board of examiners composed of three barbers who would hold examinations before granting licenses to any one who wishes to practice the tinsorial art.

Propose Soldiers' Board
The abolition of the service recognition board and providing for the rehabilitation and hospitalization of veterans of the World War by the creation of the soldiers' rehabilitation board proposed in a bill by Assemblyman Herman Suchlan will have a hearing before the committee on judiciary. Mr. Suchlan's bill would transfer about $200,000 now held by the service recognition board to the educational board to the new rehabilitation board.

A wet measure by Assemblyman H. M. Mark which would place in the hands of the city authorities to regulate saloons and blinds in soft drink parlors will also be heard by this committee.

The state affairs committee will decide the fate of a bill which would require state capital employees to work eight hours daily except holidays and Sundays. They will also recommend a bill asking the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the advisability of a state owned cement plant.

the 23 different branches of the dairy industry of America. The modern knowledge of the vital place which milk fills as a human food, especially in the feeding of growing children was discovered about the time that the World War broke out. The war upset research programs and hindered the normal spread of knowledge. After the war the state department was asked to hold a Pan-American dairy meeting. It passed the proposal along to the Department of Agriculture, which decided upon a World's Dairy Congress and suggested to the dairy interests, represented at the National Dairy Show of 1920 the formation of an organization to manage the meeting. Agricultural appropriation bill, signed March 3, 1921, authorized the president to invite foreign participation in the World's Dairy Congress, in November 1921, the World's Dairy Congress Association, the organization formed by American dairy interests, opened offices in Washington to be near the Government departments.

Many Nations Interested
The nations of the world have accepted the movement with great interest. Not only will a large percentage of them be officially represented, but associations, institutions, firms and many individuals will attend or send accredited representatives. International Dairy Federation, which was formed at Brussels 20 years ago to hold periodic international dairy meetings, chiefly of a scientific nature, in Europe, is cooperating with the Association, England, Canada and other countries have appointed official World's Dairy Congress Committees to organize delegations to the Congress. The Congress will be the first international dairy meeting to be held anywhere since the outbreak of the World War.

After the Congress sessions, the delegates and visitors will go to the 17th annual National Dairy show at Syracuse, N. Y., from October 6 to 12. The show is a cross-section of the American dairy industry with competitive exhibits of dairy cattle and dairy products.

AIRPLANE WING IMPROVEMENT

By a recent improvement made to the airplane it is possible for the vehicle to take off and alight at slow speed while at the same time making it possible for it to maintain the maximum speed in flight.

The manner in which this extreme difference in speed is accomplished is by varying the surface of the wings or planes of the biplane by withdrawing the rear part of the wings from the front part to increase the surface and by sliding the rear part back into the front part, into which it telescopes, when the airplane is in flight and it is desired to attain the maximum speed.

The varying of the surface of the wings is accomplished by the aviator, who turns a crank within the body, thus gradually increasing the speed.

Buy Horses on "Installment" Plan
English cavalry officers are greatly pleased with the new order by which a charger may be purchased by installments spread over four years, including hire and insurance, in the service. The cost of a mount, added to the rise in the price of practically everything, may mean a severe drain on an officer's resources. It is certainly a novelty, however, for the hire-purchase system to be introduced among crack cavalry regiments.

Shark-Fin Soup
The United States Fisheries Bureau calls attention to the fact that the demand for shark fins is always greater than the supply, and they fetch a high price. The principal American market is San Francisco. Considerable quantities are consumed by the Chinese of the Pacific coast, but most of them are exported to China, where shark-fin soup is regarded as one of the greatest of delicacies.

FRANK CRAVEN COMES TO THE LA CROSSE IN "FIRST YEAR"

"The First Year," the highly amusing Frank Craven comedy of small-town life, will be seen at the La Crosse Theater Saturday Mar. 31. In sending this delightful comedy to La Crosse, John Golden promises the same superb cast, headed by Frank Craven himself, which has been continuously identified with "The First Year" during a two year run in New York and all winter engagement at Woods Theater, Chicago. This includes Tim Murphy, Maude Granger, Lella Bennett, Lyster Chambers, Alice Owens, Meredith Esmond, James Bradbury, Harry Leighton and George Wright, Jr.

It would be difficult to imagine more laughs being crowded into three acts than Frank Craven has written into this unpretentious little play. This may sound like an exaggeration, but theatergoers who have witnessed "The First Year" not once but several times, have confessed they have not been able to recall ever having laughed in a theater so much or with such genuine enjoyment. This is not brought about by cracking jokes or broad clowning either, but by the amusing words and actions of such truly human beings as are rarely seen upon the stage.

Then, again, "The First Year" is a play about you and your wife, or about the grown-up boy and girl in love around the corner. As Booth Tarkington knows the adolescent, it has been said that Frank Craven knows the adolescent grown into man and woman.

"KID" DINNER COAT FORCES CLAWHAMMER TO THE ROPES HERE

"Tux" Slowly Mounting to Niche of Supremacy in Sartorial Effects

WAR AND DANCE PICTURED AS RAGGING FULLDRESS TO DOOM

Ho-hum, Life Presents Many Problems, But Not so Here

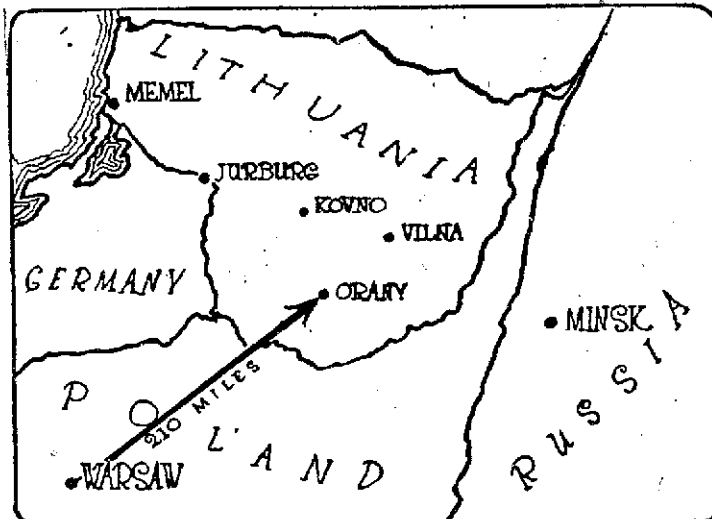

IS the man in the full dress suit doing a disappearing act? Will he eventually fade from the map of La Crosse, fade far, far away to that happy hunting ground whence the ghost of Decorah looks down on Grandad bluff and on the tops of the topees between the river and the bluff from whose countless raps curl spirals of smoke?

Has the once reverence-inspiring clawhammer become as scarce an article of masculine apparel as the iron mask or the leopard skin? It looks like it. Inquiry among tailors and clothing dealers of La Crosse tends to show that the handwriting has appeared on the wall for the "soup and fish" suit. Thus the cherished curb of all self-respecting heroes of romance has gone into the discard it would seem.

Some whom even habitually "dress" have known that the dinner coat here and there familiarly known as the "tux" had the long tailed, white vest demanding article on its back and La Crosse clothing stores affirm its defeat. True, there are still some full dress suits bought, the clothing dealer that the full dress is passe. "There always will be a certain demand for full formal wear," he said. "Sales, of course, are fewer than they were some years ago, but we have no expectation that the swallow tail will go completely out of fashion and be forgotten."

ed to as the two furies that have razed the poor old garment to its leardoom. Irving Berlin and Irene Castle Tremaine did more than their bit to bound the poor thing down the long, long trail.

Then too, in this day of more or less luxurious ease, a fellow mustn't over-strain, and lifting up all that back coat to get at the little pocket flash became too much of a strain for many.

The fact that the dinner coat, alias "tux," is more economical and can be used on more occasions than can the full rigged ship, is the nutshell explanation of the latter's popularity given by one Main street tailor.

"A black derby or even a soft hat, especially if the weather is the least bit bad is perfectly acceptable with a dinner coat," he said. "One is not expected to wear a special dress coat with a tuxedo. Neither are white gloves a requisite part of the makeup. All these things have combined to make the tailless 'V' front coat preferred."

Lower Tailor Bills
And although economy is one of the advantages the dinner coat possesses, a higher general standard of living has helped it to success. The fact that many boys and youths who formerly wore no formal clothes at all have turned to evening dress on a number of occasions in this city in the past few years has helped the less spiffy type of garment. Father can be "nicked" for the dinner coat, but for the high hat, white gloves, dress coat and rest of the complete dandy, he has been less prone to fall. The simpler rig was decreed for John and John looked so sweet and boyish in it, he got by so big that had began doing the same thing.

Meanwhile a cry of relief comes from across the salt main and bus been heard in La Crosse.

The men's fashion section of a sophisticated magazine recently devoted a page to telling how the full dress suit is triumphantly returning to the ball rooms of London. In the dear old town, it allowed, one no longer is an outcast if he appears at formal mixed gatherings with nothing to be gracefully lifted out of the way when he sits down. The trousers of the new full dress suit will be quite full, so they are told on Pheasant, hanging loosely from the waist, and, innovation truly, the braid will be left off the outside seam of the trouser legs.

Where You See 'em Here

However, in order to feast the eye on a whole room full of people in La Crosse, where the men will be replete in full dress clawhammer coats one must patronize the Rivoli and Casino for a while yet.

Ho-hum. Life presents so many problems to worry one.

George, dear, what color garter does one wear in March? The wind blows just awfully around the State Bank corner, you know.

A Relaxed Foot

Gives a Relaxed Facial Expression

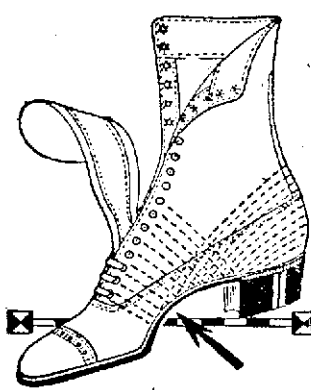

"She looks as if her feet hurt."

How often you notice an otherwise attractive face, marred by a tense, pained look.

A woman can't be at her best or look her best when she is bothered by shoes that bind the foot or do not give the arch of the foot enough freedom to flex as it should.

The Cantilever Shoe permits the foot to maintain a relaxed position whether the wearer is walking, standing or sitting. It is so constructed as to give every part of the foot ample room for exercise of the muscles and free circulation, yet it fits snugly and feels comfortable.

The arch of the Cantilever Shoe being flexible, like the arch of the human foot, the foot receives proper and flexible support, with no restraining stiffness when walking.

Cantilever Shoes are good looking. They have the modish rounded toe and the medium heel preferred by most women of today. They give such comfort satisfaction throughout every hour of the day that there is no feeling of weariness at night to dull an evening's enjoyment.

Why not buy a pair tomorrow and learn the meaning of real foot comfort?
